Lori Ronis

DURING:

6/1/80 8:59 pm pacific time zone.

Summer shoes, Well Lori - right now I'm in no condition to sign an annual, and I really appreciate all the trouble you have given us. Lori gal faula - well you're a real swell chick, infact you're a fine woman. I'm glad that we've become good friends and I hope we can do a lot of things over the summer - chick I like the color of your hair, too. Lori gal we'll have to do more things like this, always remember "gals are pals". Well chick I should sign the one below. Love, Lori B. gal. I've been grand.

AFTER:

Lori,
well chick we've done and been through a lot, gal. Well at the beginning we didn't know each other too well but I'm glad that we became good friends during 2nd semester. Boy we sure did a lot of crazy things with the other gals. and we had damn fun. (screaming, partying, bubblegum, munching out, gawling) Remember, Mr. Hansen's class - I wonder how Mally is? Well, gal, don't worry Charlie will be home soon - but in the mean time remember "gals are pals" and were always there to be a gal friend. You're such a sweet chick you've helped make everyone's day so much brighter and that's why you're such a sweet gal, and your friendship means a lot to me - so gal, keep in touch - phone and remember: LIVE LOVE LAUGH. (not on the phone either! just kidding) Always remember "funkeytown" AND HERE WE GO AGAIN!

I'M REALLY GLAD I GOT TO MEET THIS TREAT YEAR. I'll NEVER FORGET THAT NIGHT OVER AT DOREEN'S. HOPE I GET TO SEE
THIS SUMMER A IN THE FUTURE. ALSO COULD PUNK ROCKED YOU PRE-VIDEO IT SO SEE YA LATER.

hey Bonny maroni been great this ar, and also the ajiest! all I tell a, your one hell of a gal! Charlies lucky to have you, you'll always have him on his toes! Thanks for helping me out when I really needed it. If it wasnt for you gals I think I could of made it.
you gals really gave him what he deserved! I'm looking forward to the best summer yet and I know with the gals its gonna go down in history. By the way thanks for telling Bill my gal name. I swear I could of died! But that's OK his got to know the truth someday right! you better not forget the gals when Charlie comes back! Remember we are gals, gals are we!

Joni,

OH you silly girl Hasselin mk H every day in 2nd period it was a blast to load we couldn't get more classes together But maybe next year Hult? Oh well I'm glad I got that quarter to you I couldn't live thru the summer with H knowing that I owed you my whole life savings. Hope you have a good summer maybe I will see ya at La Jolla or PB. Tell Julie hi I will give you my phone # so you can tell me the going on in Bonita

Joni,
I finally did my time in this prison I guess
you've got one more year
How did we sit to know each other I don't really remember. Well any way it would of been hell with out you around and Love you
Todd Hillman

Ahhhhhh the memories! Since I've known you gals, life has been the greatest. I really mean it! All the fine times at the movies, Farelles, parties, beach (Ja golla), Padie games, etc... You are one hell of a chick - and I'm damn glad to be a part of all your fun & frolicsome times.
 I will never forget all of the *gum* you gave us, even though you didn't chew it, you risked your life for us. Thanks so much gal. Ari - you are a really fun person, when you're around there's never a dull moment, I really mean it. "Hollywood Nights" was damn funny (for the 2nd time!) and Farelles is fabulous fun for free! Your birthday party was a blast, what a bunch of gals! "Hank" is such a fine fellow! Gal, you're gonna go far & I know things will work out so good for you-n-Charlie, just stick with it for a little more longer and it will be fine. This summer is gonna be great, dive at the beach and love life. My sister is going to die if she doesn't get to meet your brother, but you know how us Thompson girls are! Please never forget all the fun times we've had, there are so many more to come! You're a fine chick! BITE OFF!
 P.S. You're a fine chick!
 Buds & Gals forever! Julie - Gal Thompson

do, you may be angry and a little jealous and especially a big mouth. But all and all you pretty most have a great summer.

City Provides Beautiful Backdrop For Bonita Vistans

Living in San Diego, one is offered a diversity of activities and terrains. But one thing that never changes is the climate. San Diegans can expect breezy relief from warm, dry summers or sunny spots during nippy winter days. No shoveling snow for the natives but just travel the short distance to the mountains and one can ski and play in the snow. Usually it's summer in San Diego, probably the only place in the country where one can frequent the beaches in November!

And it's beaches that San Diegans enjoy the most. Warm and clear waters, clean grassy knolls perfect for picnics or frisbee games - these characteristics make Southern California beaches a beautiful tourist attraction as well as a great place for the natives. One can find an over-the-line tournament or sand castle building contest at any of San Diego's beaches.

Mountains, too, are easily accessible to San Diegans. Along with skiing one can go hiking, bird watching, or nature exploring. Camps Cuyamaca and Palomar provide cabins and boarding to sixth graders, school leaders, and interested groups wishing to combine rustic outdoor living with a learning experience. Animals live peacefully in the wide open mountain spaces—one may encounter a playful deer while traveling a mountain road.

Among San Diego's other popular attractions are Balboa Park, Old Town, and the Star of India.

Diversity Reflects Unique Community

Balboa Park, with its museums and zoo, is frequented by tourists as well as native San Diegans. At the Reuben H. Fleet Space Museum parkgoers may marvel at the "spacey gadgets" this attraction has to offer. Whisper discs, special earphones, and other devices are available to the public for a small donation. The zoo, too, attracts millions of people to its world famous display of rare animals, including Przewalskii's Horse and Koala Bears.

In Old Town as well as in Presidio Park residents and visitors of San Diego may delve into the city's past. San Diego is older than the United States itself; a rebuilt church wall, seventeenth century graveyard, and other relics from pre-colonial days reveal another side of historical San Diego. One of a long line of California Missions founded under Spanish rule, Father Serra's Mission still retains some of the old European flavor brought by the Spaniards.

Originality Dictates Bonita's Lifestyle

The supposedly haunted Whaley House is another attraction where tourists look for excitement in Old Town. Rumors and testimonials have contributed to this old house's eerie reputation; indeed, one must draw his or her own conclusion.

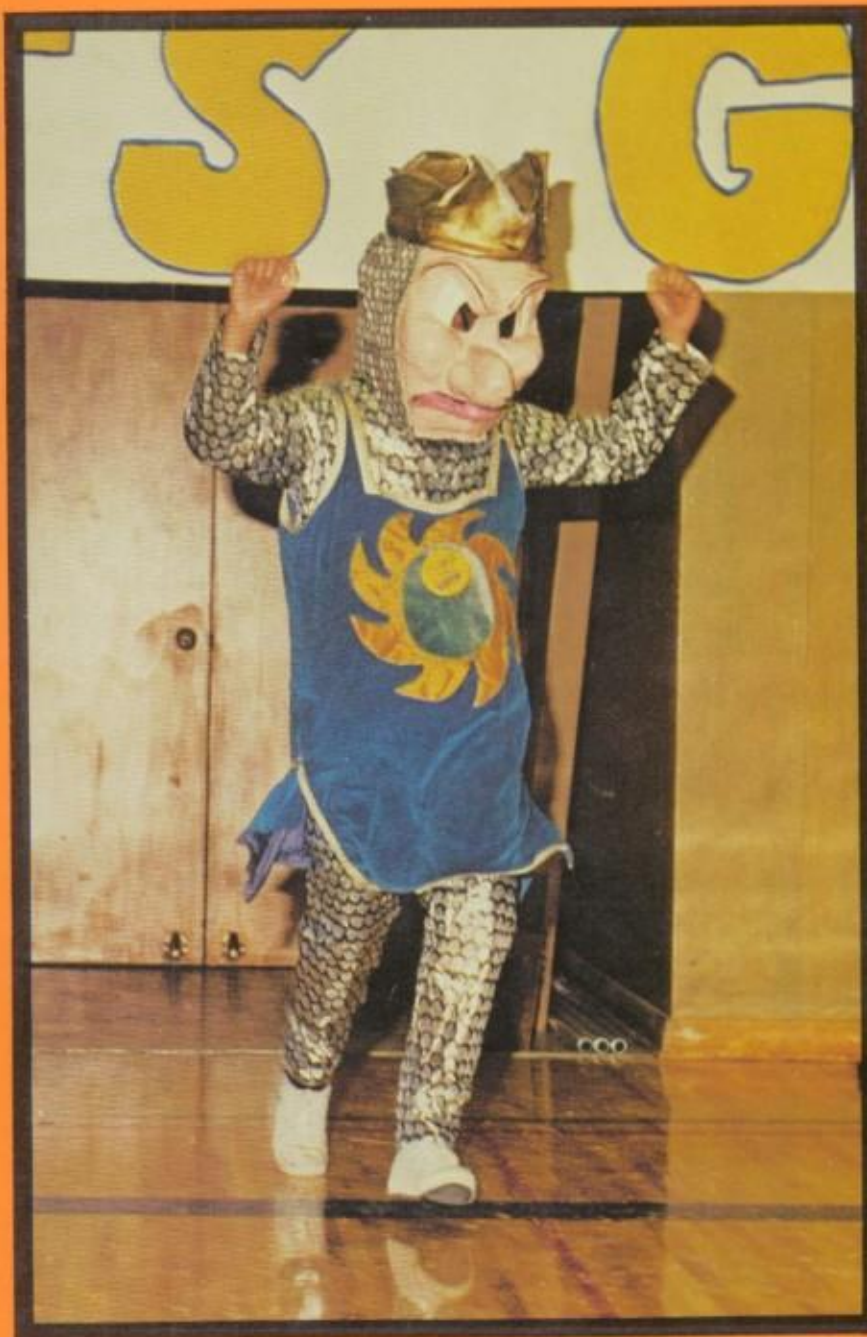

Another historical site in San Diego, the Star of India, permanently docked in the Harbor, presents a different aspect of San Diego living. The mighty old ship draws attention to San Diego Harbor where Navy ships and fishing clipper ships come to and go each day. When visitors come to inspect the Star of India Museum they cannot help but catch a glimpse of the huge fishing nets or busy fishermen. Even the bay itself offers an attraction—crisp, clear waters caress the dock under one's feet.

Students at Bonita, from the first week on were offered different activities and chances to express themselves. At the welcome assembly the ASB presented a skit featuring Andy and Agatha Apathy, hoping to exemplify apathy's destructive effects. This message seemed to reach the people as students enthusiastically participated in "Hick Day" and "Blue and Gold Day" and impressively turned out at the "Howdy Dance" featuring Jynx.

Students also had the chance to become involved through clubs or band. With over fifteen active clubs on campus a diversity of interests was covered, offering students a chance to explore his or her favorite. Popular clubs such as Octagon, Campus Life, Pep, and AFS were the major activity contributors. Interact held its annual Thanksgiving Carnation Sale. Spanish, French, and Multicultural clubs allowed interested students to learn more about people and lifestyles of the world, and Knowledge Bowl and Speech clubs allowed one to use his or her intellect while having fun.

The band, comprised of 50 students, played at football and basketball games, pep assemblies, and parades. Led by Mr. Martinez, this organization provided a unifying force—music—to the spirited "Rowdy Rooters" of Bonita.

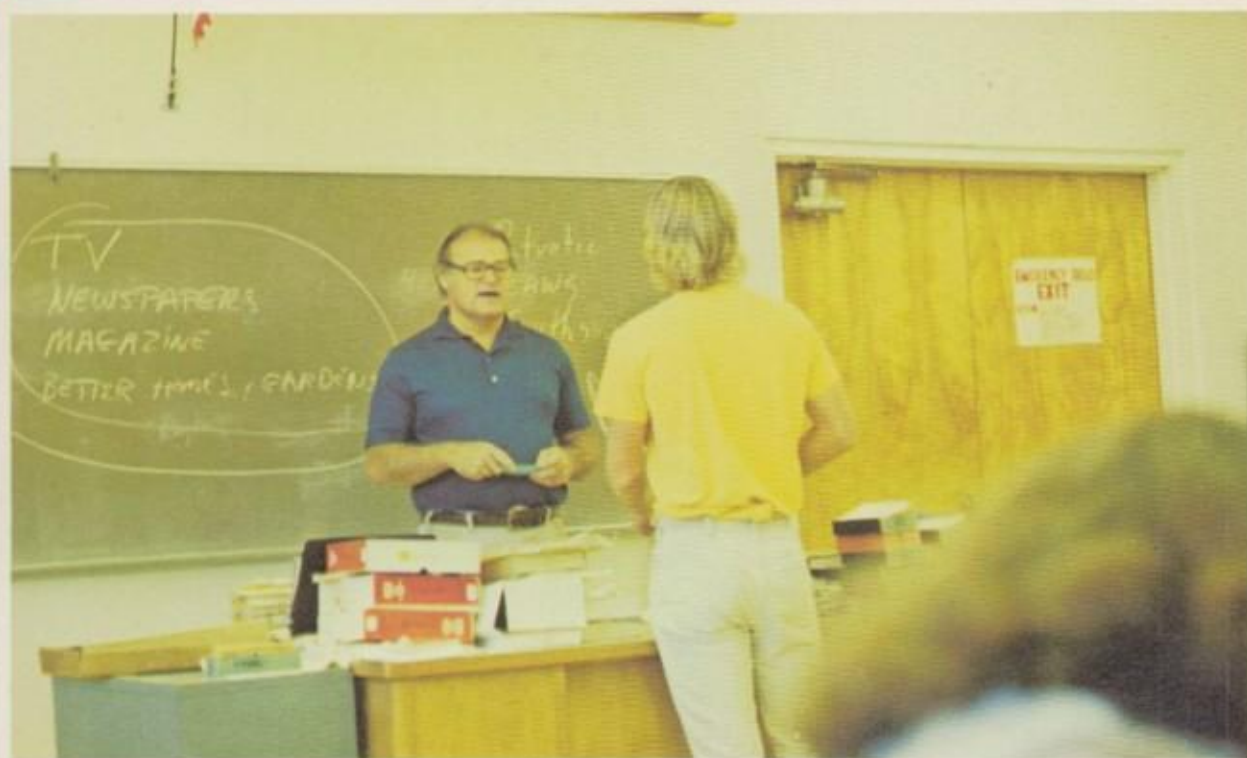

Academics provided students with a chance to exercise their minds. Stimulating courses ranging from Life Science to AP English allowed all students to expand their knowledge at their own rates. Teachers and students explored different academic areas, as courses were cancelled and new teaching assignments gave teachers a chance to teach a new subject. Sophomores were offered new faces in the Family Life department, while Juniors and Seniors saw new Physics and History teachers. Course requirements accommodated every student and graduation requirements were filled with little worry about the unavailability of needed classes.

School, City Provide Colorful Display

Providing free time during the school day, lunch was used by the students as a time for action. A watermelon eating contest, a diaper changing race, an obstacle course, and a sundae eating contest were just a few of the outrageous lunch time activities sanctioned by the ASB. Along with this, music radiated loudly from speakers around the lunch area, and seniors unofficially caused their own excitement on the senior lawn.

For, it has been a long year and it has been a long time since you have been to know you and wish the best for you & Chuck. We can have a good senior year hope to see you some time.
 lots of love

San Diego is a city wholly diversified in itself; yet, within this metropolis of ours lies a tranquil and historical town. Bonita has a very homegrown past—its roots lie with farmers on the mesa and lemon growers of the valley. Much has come about since those "good ole days" and to celebrate our history and our progress, Bonita prepares a fun-filled week end for all ages. On September 29 and 30, the seventh annual Bonitafest was underway.

Reigning as Junior Host and Hostess this year were Bill Umansky and Shari Myers. Joining them were Senior Host (con't) and Hostess, Al Monohan and Emily Ritter, two original founders of the Bonitafest. Their work and devotion to the community has been appreciated by many. Grand Marshalls this year were Roland de Fere and Martha Chapman. These two have been long standing residents of Bonita Valley, and have watched it grow from a lemon grove and a one room school house to a lively bustling town.

The day started with a tree planting ceremony, symbolizing the growth of Bonita. Many old timers attended and participated with great pride. Leading the most popular event of the weekend were the Grand Marshalls, followed by a beautiful trail of antique cars. The annual parade has grown to lengths unknown to those who first brought up the idea. The Bonita Vista High Marching Band and Drill Team participated along with the newly popular Octogon Club and other individual entries. The Bonita Vista Varsity cheerleaders captured the award for best Junior entry by their enthusiastic ride on the city fire engine.

Yet there was still much more to come. Following the parade were events including, a historical fashion show, which educated onlookers about the dress code from the 1750's to the 1980's, the Bonita Vista Music Machine, an old timer's luncheon and a rock dance. But most of all booths, booths, and more booths filled the parking lots of Bonita's shopping centers. Children and adults alike wandered and browsed through the many handiworks of businessmen and craftsmen of Bonita.

Another very popular event was the second annual melodrama. In contrast to last year's "Thin skins and Hayseeds", humor instead of historical fact was the emphasis. Set in the time of mobsters and prohibition, Bonita was ultimately corrupted by a mob making bootleg beer in the town's lemon packing factory. Many Bonita Vista Students were involved in the production which provided entertainment to Bonita residents and visitors alike.

Overall, Bonitafest 1979 stirred fond memories of Bonita's rural past in those who have watched it grow. And to those who have only known Bonita in its present state it offered a peek into their town's past heritage.

'79 News Events Broaden San Diegans Perspectives

Soviet combat troops were discovered based in Cuba. Placing a strain on concurrent Salt II senate ratification negotiations, this issue also caused tension personally for President Carter. Declared "dishonest" and "deceitful" by Cuban President Castro, Carter attempted to explain in a public address what he knew were the facts and what he planned to do in reaction. Carter's apparent lack of direct action did not strengthen his bid for re-election; as a matter of fact, Castro accused Carter of creating a "crisis" in order to enhance his own self-image. Unfortunately, even if this were true, Carter looks to the general public neither powerful nor effective.

In addition, Soviet and American negotiators designed the second Strategic Arms Limitations Treaty; however, slow Senate ratification prohibited its immediate implementation. Widely accepted in Russia, the SALT II would prohibit nuclear arms and other weapons, thus assuring no nuclear threats to either the USSR or the U.S. Soviet troops stationed in Cuba put a strain on the U.S. who, up to that point, had not ratified the plan.

On the other hand, three African countries made drastic changes in their governments. The Central African Empire, now Central African Republic, deposed its pompous emperor Bokassa who had earlier bankrupted the country with a lavish coronation ceremony and committed inhumane crimes against the nation's youth. Similarly, the deposed dictator Macias of Equatorial Guinea was executed after being convicted of genocide. A nearly bloodless coup led by that country's defense minister ousted the ruthless leader after an eleven month regime. On different lines, white rulers in Rhodesia consented to turning over that country to the black majority which changed the country's name to Zimbabwe-Rhodesia. With the help of British negotiators, a new Constitution was constructed by both blacks and whites.

Here at home, the Pope's visit to the United States marked an historical event. Touring the East and Midwest, Pope John Paul II was met by millions who wished to see and listen to the pontiff. In cities like Boston, New York, and Philadelphia, Irish and Italian Catholics lined the streets as the Pope's motorcade rode through the town. Surely the most excited American ethnic group were the Poles; from Chicago to Des Moines the American Polish-Catholic population hailed John Paul II "their" Pope.

Along different lines, 1979 saw inflation contributing to many United States crises. Rises in gas prices, prime lending rate, and gold prices caused great concern in the Carter Administration, among U.S. citizens, and around the world. As gasoline prices hit the $1.00 mark on the West Coast, prices soared to $1.25 in the East. Also in New York City prominent banks raised the interest rates offered to large corporations in an attempt to curb inflation. At the same time, gold prices jumped nearly 90%, clearly indicating world-wide distrust in the inflated American dollar.

Also during the last few months of 1979, politicians throughout the United States prepared for the upcoming election year. California Governor Brown, former California Governor Reagan, Massachusetts Senator Kennedy, and President Carter were the four major people to announce their candidacy. Even before Ted Kennedy's announcement he began denouncing many of Carter's actions in an attempt to win public support. Jerry Brown also started his campaigning early. Ronald Regan used his conservative views to downgrade Carter, especially Carter's attempts at solving the Cuban Soviet troops issue. President Carter tried hard to resolve many domestic and world affairs; still, his popularity dropped behind that of the other candidates, including former President Ford.

While politics seemed the forerunner in the news, a runaway Mexican oil drill lost control, spilling tons of crude oil into the Gulf of Mexico and ruining 1,000 miles of Texas coast. Dead birds, fish, and plant life washed ashore as angry Texans demanded compensation from Mexican President Lopez-Portillo. The Mexican President pledged to resolve the dispute, much to the relief of mourning Texas coast inhabitants.

Moreover, a Supreme Court decision barred a liberal California magazine from publishing directions for making a Hydrogen Bomb. However, in Wisconsin the details were made public, creating an uproar in Washington. Though a later Supreme Court decision allowed for the printing, violators of the first order were still to be criminally charged.

In Southern California, record hot spells and smog levels in Los Angeles County were reported in September. With temperatures in the hundreds and smog at the third stage alert level, residents of Los Angeles were cautioned not to over-exert themselves or remain outside for extended periods of time. Within ten days relief was felt as temperatures dropped to the nineties, and after two weeks, the usual September eighty degree temperatures were felt.

Up in San Francisco, an undetected sewage leak seeped toxic sewage into the San Francisco Bay. Dead birds, fish, and plantlife presented a situation somewhat reminiscent of the Texas coast incident. Speculators predicted the Bay would be poisoned for approximately ten years; however, officials now say the sewage is almost entirely cleaned out of the Bay.

Here in San Diego, a 16-year-old girl, Brenda Spencer, opened fire on Cleveland Elementary School, killing two men and injuring nine school children. Spencer was convicted of murder on two counts, but all other charges were dropped since she pleaded guilty.

The sports world, too, experienced a tragic loss as Thurman Munson, catcher for the New York Yankees, died suddenly in a plane crash. Baseball teams throughout the United States mourned the all-star's death. Even in San Diego, the Padres, who are in a different league from the Yankees and have never competed against the team, expressed sorrow over the 32-year-old Thurman Munson's death.

On a final note, there has been a big push to reunite the legendary Beatles. The reunion concert, promoters hoped, would be a charity project aimed at helping the refugee Boat People of Southeastern Asia. All in all many people were very excited at the thought of the Beatles getting back together, but realists couldn't help but point out the chances were very slim.

Student Life

Students returned to the school routine with an extra spark of enthusiasm which immediately signaled the beginning of a successful year. Football season kicked off the first sequence of pep assemblies where students and faculty participated in skits and cheers. A new lunchtime pep rally initiated by Coach Fernandez and organized by Robert Lebel added to the pride-boosting entertainment schedule.

Homecoming Week, too, featuring the "California Dreamin'" theme was a five day occasion climaxing on Friday, November 2, with the thrills of a football game and the Queen announcement. This was only the first "big" activity. The Baronial Ball, the Variety Show, and the OPTEC-KPRI assembly also highlighted the students' lives as event after event compounded the excitement inspired by every teacher and student.

In addition students became involved in extracurricular activities like clubs, choir, ASB, and sports. The students' time for the most part was spent in the classroom, but when the bell rang at two o'clock, each student scattered to his or her special activity.

Many students spent a large part of their spare time supporting athletic teams. The band and Drill Team practiced hard for their half time performances at football games. The Drill Team also performed during several Basketball half times, and the band played at pep assemblies and rallies. The cheerleaders spent numerous hours making up and rehearsing cheers for games and sometimes skits for pep assemblies. The members of the pep club and secret pals painted posters, and the service club sold tickets and concessions at many games.

The activities did not stop when the games were over, however. Often Barons could be seen at Fun Fair, playing pinball or foosball, or gathering at Round Table for pizza.

The 1979-80 school year got off on the right foot as many activities had been planned to get students involved with the school. They started off with Hick Day when cut-off shorts, straw hats, and overalls could be seen everywhere. At lunch time there were hay rides, a small wagon equipped with a bale of hay, and even a horse.

Other activities took place as the year began. Several pep-rallies were held during lunch by the cheerleaders and the pep band. Students wore pajamas and carried dolls, all-day suckers, and teddy bears for Kiddie Day. The Pig Skin Pig Out featured several gluttonous Barons in a watermelon eating contest, and on Punk Rock Day Barons imitated their favorite punk rock stars.

Throughout the open participation, behind-the-scenes involvement was also evident. Secret Pals continued to support athletic teams, with posters dominating the lunch area and hallways before games. The ASB organized and sponsored the "Howdy Dance", the first dance of the year, which gave many the chance to make new friends or reunite with old ones.

School Activities Promote Student Involvement

Students Contribute Through Volunteer Services

During an average school week, approximately forty students from the Life Program (Learning in a Free Environment) are involved with volunteer service jobs. These jobs range from teacher's aides to assistants at the South Bay Animal Shelter. Many of the volunteer services are performed on campus, while others are located around the community. Some of these students continue to work after the semester is over and the credit is received, and a few have been offered wages for the continuation of their services.

Clockwise: Arthur Bidwell provides over-the-counter service in the student store. Guy Le Compte lends a helping hand to Ms. Jones-Pittman as a teacher's aide. Jaime Norton organizes upcoming events. Some active members of the Southwestern Child Care Center keep Barbie McDaniel busy.

Hi Lori,
 Well, it's been a pretty nice year, hasn't it?
 Hopefully, next year will be better though. We sort of lost touch these last couple of years, maybe next year will be different (hopefully)!
 I remember elementary

 Oh well, have a great summer, + I'll see ya
 next year!
 cya!

Excitement and tension filled the crowd as 1979's Homecoming Court stepped onto the field. Each beautiful girl represented a unique lifestyle that San Diego living has created for them. Variety and enthusiasm played a major role in these five young ladies' lives and their out-going personalities definitely made them "California Girls".

Standing 5'5" with brilliant blue eyes, Anne Hammond drew "oohs" and "aahs" from many fans. Participating in the Bonita Vista Music Machine Anne shared her talent with many people. A member of CSF, vice-president of the Interact Club, and a J.V. and Varsity cheerleader, Anne devoted a lot of hard work to school organizations. Outside of B.V.H.S. Anne plays and teaches piano, sings in church, water skis, and enjoys kids. Anne plans to major in Math or Computer Science.

Shari Myers, 5'6" Varsity cheerleader and Interact Club president, also walked down the red carpet that evening. Shari was a member of BV's softball team, and a class officer for three years as well as an annual staff copy editor. Outside of school involvement, Shari likes to travel, play soccer, back pack and snow ski. Shari plans to attend the University of the Pacific.

Nancy Cooper, a 5'7" blonde, dazzled onlookers on Homecoming evening. A J.V. and Varsity cheerleader, and an annual staff member, Nancy also enjoys snow skiing, camping in Colorado, and trying her hand at sewing. She hopes to go into interior decorating after college.

Next the crowd was introduced to Laurie Gibbs, a 5'7" brunette. Her involvement in school has been plentiful and varied. A member of congress for three years and a J.V. and Varsity cheerleader, Laurie was definitely an activist at Bonita Vista. Outside of school, Laurie likes to be with her family and "bum around" with friends. Laurie is looking forward to studying psychology at San Diego State.

Barbara "Keller" Tovaas topped the court with originality. Barbara enjoys ATC riding, camping in the desert and has just started taking Judo along with her new husband, Marty Tovaas. Barbara plans to major in science or art at SDSU.

Climaxing a week of "California Dreamin'" Homecoming activities, Barbara Tovaas was crowned as B.V.'s 1979 Homecoming Queen. The announcement was made during halftime at the exciting November 2nd Montgomery Aztecs vs. Barons football game. Applause and cheers exploded for all the lovelies as the memorable 1979 Homecoming drew to a close.

A Dream Comes True For Five California Girls

Students Earn Extra Money Through Part Time Employ- ment

Throughout the year, many Bonita students held part-time jobs. This gave them not only the chance to earn some extra money, but also gave students an insight to the business world, as well as an opportunity to prepare themselves for future vocations.

Bob Murray, upper left, presents a customer a bucket of balls and a smile at Sweetwater Driving Range. Audrey Roland, above, piles carob-covered soynuts on a large mixed-fruit yogurt at the Skinny Dip. Tracey Merritt, left, calls the next party to their table as hostess of the Big Yellow House. Mike Copp, lower center, displays his efficiency as he helps a shopper at Von's. Far left, Catherine Wheeler does her part to keep McDonald's spotless.

Work experience accounted for a great number of employed students, but there are many who held jobs without the added benefit of receiving school credit. Whether or not students gained a skilled trade, they profitted by learning to deal with the public, and aquired self discipline and confidence.

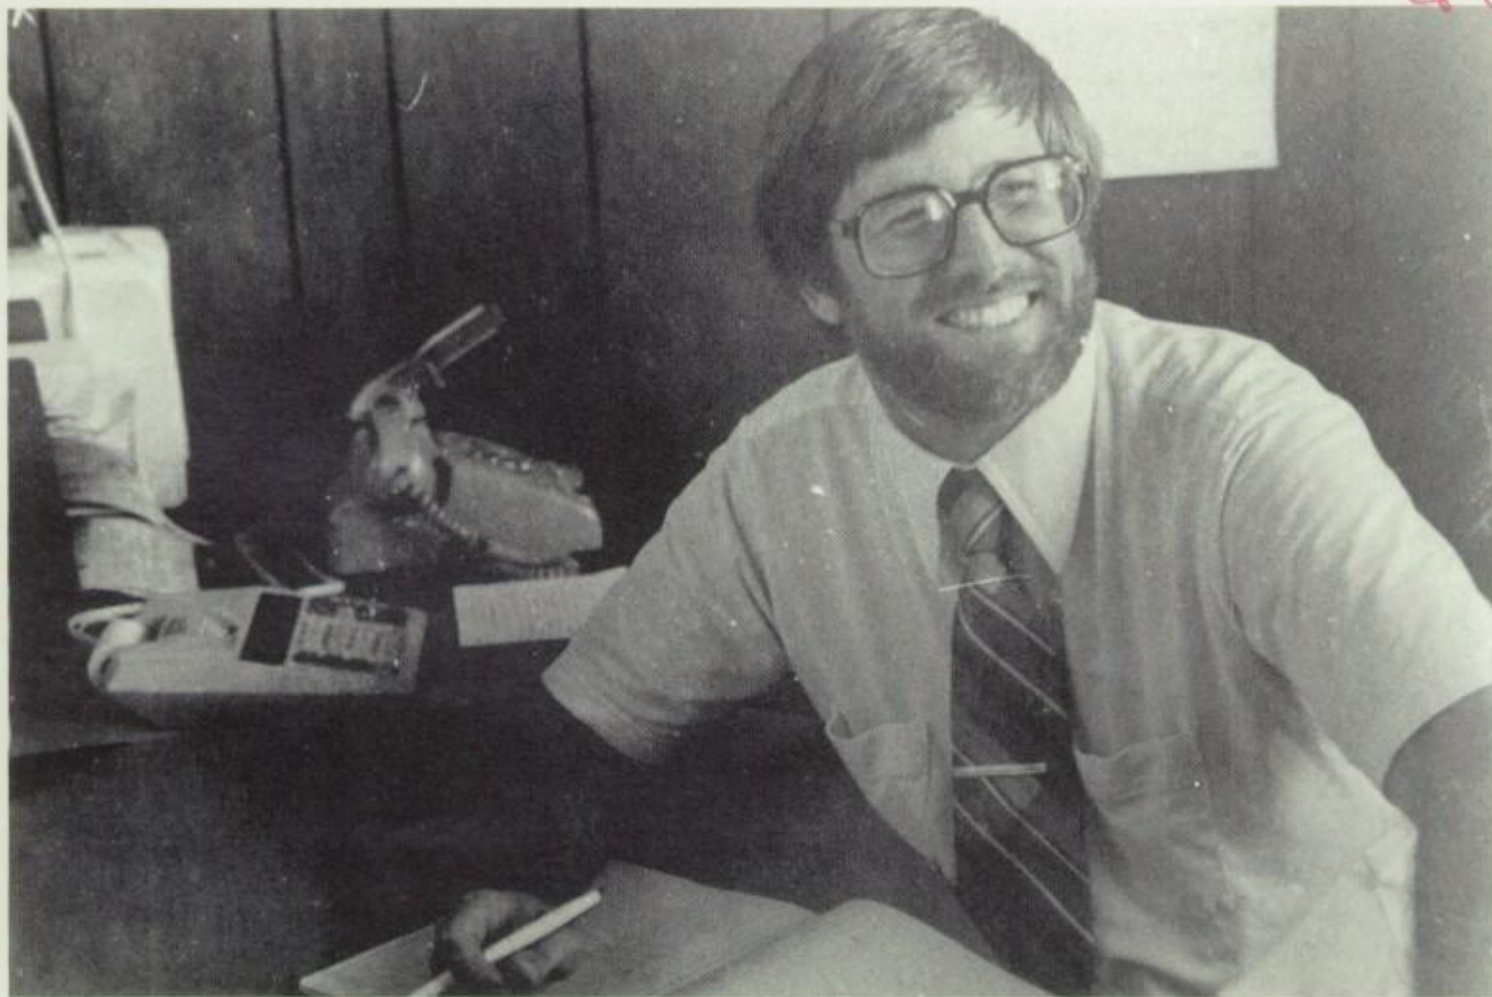

The 1979-80 ASB officers coordinated their efforts to produce a fun-filled school year. Flora Danque, an industrious worker, served as president of the student body, (top center) while Lauri Croce, vice-president, (right) and Desiree Ang, secretary, (above) helped to carry out the ASB's innovative ideas. Along with the officers and cabinet, Mr. Greg Cox, ASB advisor, (far right) and Mrs. Barbara Griffith ("Griff"), secretary (upper right), organized fund raisers, student activities, and Homecoming.

The spirited, motivated, and creative commissioners of the 1979-1980 Associated Student Body Cabinet led their fellow classmates in an exciting year. With Flora Danque, Lauri Croce, and Desiree Ang leading the way, able commissioners coordinated many worthwhile programs.

With Michelle Scalise and Linda Davis providing the artwork around campus, the 1979-1980 school year was nothing less than brilliantly colorful! Janelle Henry, the spirited Commissioner of Pep, rallied the BV students as well as painted posters as head of the Rowdy Rooters. Along with Mr. Schanke, Janelle kept the pep club vitalized during every sport season. Also instrumental to the maintenance of support this year was Gaby Garcia. As Commissioner of Tickets, Gaby was in charge of admission into various sports and social events. Amy Ross and Jenny Campbell ran the Concession Store this year with an unmatched level of efficiency. As these two commissioners collected money from the sales of candy, popcorn, and soft drinks, Finance Commissioners Jim Perkins and Laura Hattendorf kept the books in perfect order. Commissioner of Elections Laura Crowley ran the polls during the school year, gathering workers and counting votes. Nancy Nelson as Public Relations Commissioner arranged the marquee and contributed to the Campus Viewpoint column in the CV Star News weekly. A delightful Teacher Appreciation Luncheon can also be credited to Nancy. Robert Lebel, Commissioner of Activities, typed assembly schedules and coordinated speakers, acts, and bands for most of the 1979-1980 activities. Jamie Norton, Commissioner of Alumni, designed and executed one of the most successful Homecomings ever produced along with the help of every commissioner.

What made this year's ASB Cabinet so great is that every commissioner contributed to the making of quite a distinctive year.

Congress, Class Officers Work Diligently

Congress is a very important organization on campus; however, its activities are not often known to the rest of the student body. The members of Congress awake bright and early to make decisions involving allocating money, accepting clubs, and doing the school budget. This year's first semester Congress included (l-r) top row: Pam Mason, Ceci Martinez, Traci Polselli, Patty Bergman, Dave Tanaka, Julie Watson, Laurie Gibbs, and Evan Collins. Center row: Melanie Akers, Dea Giles, Gary Hunt, Rozaida Manas, Rosemarie Alabado, and Maureen Webber. Bottom row: Mary Kay Haas, Janet Steel, Beth Precourt, Janet Coates, Kenny Gibbs, Juliet Sapida, and Merilee Munger.

Aside from Congress some enthusiastic and very active people were the class officers. These students were responsible for the Homecoming skits and fund raisers.

Senior class officers this year worked diligently organizing the Senior Prom, Grad Night, and Graduation.

Senior officers this year were President Bill Umansky, Vice-President Shari Myers, and Treasurer Teresa Miller.

Underclass officers worked to raise money for future senior activities. Junior class officers were President Julie Steel, Vice-President Gary Hunt, Secretary Dea Giles, and Treasurer Allison Gibson.

Friday night's Homecoming Queen announcement was the exciting climax to a week long Homecoming celebration which began Monday, October 29.

This year's theme—California Dreamin'—was illustrated the entire week by five days representing California lifestyles. The spirited week commenced with "Disneyland Day." On this day students dressed as their favorite Disney character or as a tourist. The lunchtime activity was an ice cream sundae building-and-eating contest. The seniors won this event as Nan Cooper concocted and Andy Lurie and Marty Fornataro devoured the huge confection.

Tuesday was dubbed "Hippy Day." Students dressed in beads, beards, striped pants, and wild boots to commemorate this teenage fad of the sixties. The lunchtime activity was a crazy relay cycle race where students rode tricycles as they carried protest signs, wore beads, and carried a flower in their mouths. The seniors won this event also as five daring members of the senior class pushed and peddled their ways toward the finish line.

Wednesday, students paid tribute to California's most popular showplace: Hollywood. Dressing as Rocky, King Kong, Otto Preminger, and Dolly Parton, as well as many other celebrities, Barons showed their spirit this day in grand fashion. During lunch physical activities were set aside; instead, the five lovely candidates were auctioned along with their homemade lunches to the lucky high bidder. Friendly competition flared as male students dug through their pockets in search of funds that might purchase a lunch date with their favorite Queen candidate.

Prior to this event was an assembly where each candidate was introduced through a slide presentation to the student body. Then, during nutrition break and lunch every student had the chance to vote for the Queen. The number of voters from each class was tallied and the results entered into the week long competition. The seniors won again, with the juniors taking second and sophomores taking third. Wednesday night, "Horizon" offered the rock and roll entertainment at the Homecoming dance. Current Bonita students as well as alumni attended the dance sponsored by the ASB.

On Thursday cowboys, saloon girls, and miner 49ers dominated the scene throughout the halls of Bonita during "Gold Rush Day." An obstacle course which included obstacles such as a bird seed dust storm, wading pool river crossing, whipped cream snow storm, and California apple gold search was the activity for this day. The sophomore team comprised of Mark Backes and Denise Nelson turned things around for their class and reigned victorious over the other two classes' teams.

Finally, Friday's "Sea & Ski Day" had students clad as surfers, skiers, hikers, cyclers, and skaters representing the diverse outdoor activities of the California lifestyle. The lunchtime activity was the very popular tug-of-war. The Seniors won this grueling contest of wit and strength. The day was topped off by a combined Pep/Homecoming assembly where each class and the teachers presented a skit. The teachers, in a superb skit about cheerleaders, football players, and wise ideas entertained the audience; but it was the classes who entered into competition. The Senior skit entitled "The Temptations of a Quarterback" took the prize that afternoon.

As usual the Seniors won the Homecoming Week's numerous competitions—still, the 1979-1980 Homecoming saw the entire Bonita Vista population joining in to celebrate. Without the overwhelming support of every student, teacher, and alumni, the Homecoming could never have been such a huge success.

Originality Characterizes BMOC Week

With the naming of Steve Polakoff as the '1979-80 "Big Man On Campus"' at the Coronado-BV basketball halftime on Friday, February 8, a unique odyssey of five male individuals ended in a similarly unique atmosphere.

The five chosen to run for BMOC by the Senior Class were neither unfavorable nor surprise candidates. Three sports heroes, one student government premier, and one enthusiastic trend-setter comprised the selection list, and Barons had a well-deserving field from which to choose.

Mark Green, Guy LeCompte, and Reid Sholl, each members of the highly popular BVH football team were thoughtfully considered during this election for their individual merits. Mark, a radical and energetic six-foot blonde was judged on his intellectual qualities and his determination to maintain valuable relationships. Guy, captain of the football team, stood out as a pious contributor to community and school related organizations and as a unifying person.

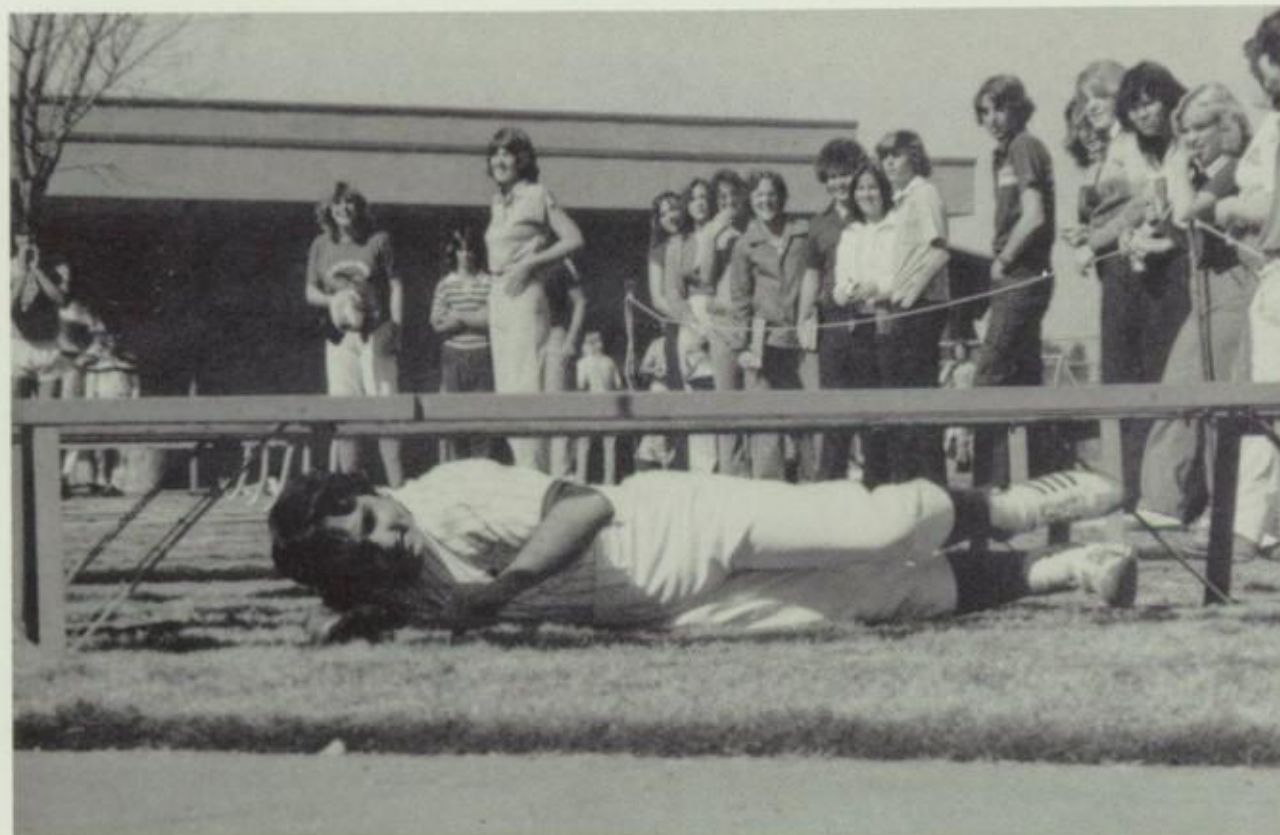

The statuesque Reid, furthermore, was judged on his athletic triumphs, which included starting on three varsity squads over the past year, and on his sociable attributes.

Robert Lebel, on the other hand, was considered on another set of criteria. His leadership abilities, as brightly shown through his work as ASB Commissioner of Activities, intense dependability and service, and social lattitude made this candidate appealing. Steve Polakoff, too, embodied diverse characteristics as this friendly, supportive peer of all Barons became this second semester's new Baron mascot.

Each of the five candidates, by displaying similar qualities while still manifesting individualism, stood worthy of the BMOC honors and when the final decision came down, every candidate, parent, and spectator knew that those five charming young men had earned a Big Man On Campus title in their own right.

Bonita Vista had several cultural organizations on campus. One of them was the DYNASTY CLUB "A Family of Leaders," which focuses on the Pacific-Asian cultures. In order to expose the student body to these cultures, the Dynasty Club sponsored a Cultural Week.

On Monday there was a Karate exhibition by Unified Martial Arts: The on-lookers were fascinated by a young girl (below) who demonstrated her talents, splitting a wooden board with her foot. Tuesday was a performance in Tahitian dancing. Pictured far right below, are Marisa Gonzales and Denise Saluda performing Ta Manu dance of combined Hula and Tahitian. On Wednesday a group of young men showed the Barons a dance called "Popping." Popping is a current fad among Black and Asian-Americans on the west coast. Shown center right is Eddie Castro, one of the performers. "Tinikling" drew a large crowd on Thursday as people gathered to watch and participate in the Filipino folk dance. Two of the clubs advisors, Randy Mose and Jarvis Malone (co-advisor), pictured far right, attempted the unusual dance. On Friday a foreign exchange student, Gulnihah Erding (right) contributed a depiction of a different type of culture, doing a native dance from her homeland, Turkey. Many Barons also feasted on Chinese cuisine that day, as it was evident that Dynasty's Won Ton Sale was a success.

Overall, the cultural week turned out well and was enjoyed by all. The 1979-80 school year was the first year for the Dynasty Club. It was founded by Stella Cayabyab, Ron Cayabyab, Debbie Whetstine, and Bernadette de Leon. These students, along with several others, dedicated much of their time to the organization and coordination of this club's beginning and activities.

Medieval Theme Enhances Annual Baronial Ball

Clockwise from top left: Eileen Mace and her date smile for the photographer; a weary couple relaxes after an exciting evening; Billy Tuchscher and Kathy Edmunds share a special moment; Marie Yutsus and Dave Freeman enjoy casual conversation; Alicia Brown and Chris Cross take advantage of a more intimate atmosphere; Susie Langland, Bill Umansky, and R.K. Hiatt refresh themselves; and Carrie Carter has a good time with Frank Backes.

A unique medieval theme was created for the 1979 Baronial Ball. Invitations and decorations exemplified "Knights with fair maidens under the stars." Fortunately, San Diego provided a wide variety of exquisite restaurants for couples to dine at. After dinner, they headed toward the El Cortez Center in beautiful downtown San Diego. Handsomely dressed, they danced to the sounds of "Jynx" while others shared their evening's exciting events. Although the dancing ended at 11:00 there was more fun to come before the night ended. The 1979 Baronial Ball will have many moments to be cherished by all who attended.

Foreign Exchange Students Enlighten Others Through Different Cultures

An artist, tennis player, and mathematics and chemistry enthusiast, Fanny Cespedes, a Columbian, came to the United States to learn to speak English. Fanny understands more than she is able to speak, and next year she will be going to Switzerland to study languages. Fanny enjoys the warm weather here in San Diego, for the climate is cold in Bogota. A shy but friendly girl, Fanny finds the people here understanding and she feels this helps her to learn more quickly. The schools in Colombia are more exacting, but Fanny likes the social climate here at BVH.

Raul Carmello is being hosted by the Denny family. A resident of Brazil, Raul is having "a lot of fun" here in the United States simply because of the vast difference in lifestyle. Raul feels Bonita Vista is a very good school with "really nice and friendly people."

Tuula Rautakorpi is from Espoo, Finland; however, she attends school in Helsinki, the national capital. After visiting Tennessee and Washington State, Tuula was thoroughly convinced that she would love to spend a school year in the United States. California's weather and beauty did not shock Tuula; the warm climate is quite pleasing to this Scandinavian who is used to consistently cooler weather. The main difference Tuula finds between her school in Helsinki and Bonita is that here the school provides more than academic stimulation such as pep assemblies, sports events, and organizations. Since she was a small child, Tuula has been intrigued by "Disneyland" and has declared herself quite a Disney fan. Living with the Griego family, Tuula finds her time going "too fast!"

Eduardo Cifuentes is living with Mr. Jose Lopez and his wife Maryon who have taught Eduardo much about the United States and the American way of living. A Guatemalan resident, Eduardo attended an all-male "bachillerato" (high school) from which he graduated in 1979. The difference Eduardo found between his school at home and Bonita is that here more courses are considered electives. Eduardo first heard about the American Field Service from his cousin to whom he owes this great opportunity.

A resident of Ghana, Karen Enti is here in the United States as a member of the Dawes family. Karen is considered a senior here at Bonita, but actually she has two more years of secondary school to complete back home. Karen has found it very enjoyable to be able to engage in so many varied activities and hopes to bring some of her new found talents back home to Ghana at the end of her stay.

Ilona Schmitz comes from Holland and is living with the Taunt family in Bonita. Ilona considers herself "very lucky" because in addition to having the chance to live and go to school in Bonita, she also had the opportunity to travel with the Taunts on an overland country excursion through ten states. Ilona likes the fact that at Bonita the students have a wide variety of subjects from which to choose. Ilona feels that Americans are "emotional, hard working, and active."

Gulnihal Erding, from Istanbul, Turkey, lives with the Briceno family during her year visit to the United States. Mainly interested in different forms of communication, Gul enjoys exchanging views and ideas with others. Gul is fascinated with the sincerity and understanding of the Bonita Vista students and teachers, the great amount of social activities available in San Diego, and the school spirit here at Bonita Vista. Gul is required to take eight classes a day in Turkey; she finds the school day here shorter, but the heavy class load she chose makes up for the difference.

The majority of students at Bonita Vista enjoy the vast number of activities and clubs in school, but many also participate in sports and activities outside of school. Regardless of the time of year, something fun and exciting can be done in Southern California.

The sports range from foreign arts such as Judo and Kendo to Bonita's more common sight of horseback riding. Also having its influence is our aquatic environment. The ocean provides a place where the people of San Diego can partake in a variety of water sports. Swimming and surfing, of course, are enjoyed by many people, while scuba diving, sailing, and jet skiing are some of the more unusual sports.

Because California has such a versatile climate, winter sports can also be pursued. When snow falls in the nearby mountains, San Diegans flock to the area. Although ski runs don't exist, other activities such as sledding and tobogganning give pleasure for the young and old alike. Sometimes people retreat to the mountains just for an afternoon of solitude in the winter wonderland. Almost all skiing in Southern California takes place in the San Bernardino mountains, in popular places such as Snow Valley and Snow Summit.

When summer finally comes around and the skis are put away, Bonita Vistians search out some of the more irregular sports to occupy their time. At the beach and on the boardwalk, roller skating and over-the-line are becoming increasingly popular. The desert and mountains also have their place in the recreational world. Motorcrossing over the dried earth and backpacking in the various mountain ranges occupy many of the summer days for those who participate in such sports.

Along with the 'specialized' sports that Bonitans enjoy are the more usual activities that are commonly seen in the community. Volleyball and raquetball are ordinary sights of Southwestern College. The courts provided there are free of charge, thereby allowing many to use the facilities. Tennis courts also are used, but the Bonita Valley Tennis Club seems to attract the larger crowds. And, of course, there is horseback riding, one of the most ubiquitous activities in Bonita. All over the valley there are riding trails and various stables. The golf course also gets its share of these equestrians.

From this broad range of afterschool acti-

Horseback riding in Bonita takes many forms. Some equestrians enjoy a calm ride through the valley, while others prefer the excitement of keen competition. The bridge paths of Bonita, though gradually disappearing under the concrete of progress, still provide a quite place for horse and owner to enjoy some peacefulness.

Ute Haustedt exhibited the jumping talent of her horse, Hawaiian Boy, at a show in Pio Pico. She has been riding in Bonita and in shows around the county for several years, and enjoys training horses as well as riding them.

vities, something can be done in the winter or summer, unusual or the more common. The students at Bonita Vista continue to excel in school sports and activities while enjoying these many alternatives to afterschool pursuits.

Student's Lives Enhanced By Out-of-School Activities

Raquetball and roller skating are only two of the many activities that are enjoyed by Bonita Vista students. Both are fairly easy, and challenges are always present.

Raquetball is an exciting sport, played either indoors or on outside courts. One of the popular places to play is on the four-wall courts at Southwestern College. Providing an empty court can be found, it is available free of charge.

Roller skating is becoming more popular as a growing number of people become concerned about their health. But more important to Bonita students is the enjoyment of a warm afternoon in Balboa Park, rolling down the sidewalks.

Some students at Bonita Vista participate in activities aside from the usual bowling or roller skating. Victor Kilgore is one of them. Kendo provided an interesting outlet from his usual activities, and since discovering its unique challenges, he has spent a great deal of time developing his skills. He is shown wearing the outfit used for practicing, but a complete armor is worn at serious tournaments.

Kendo, an ancient Japanese martial art, is used in preparation for the traditional Samurai (sword-fighting). Just gaining popularity in San Diego with about fifty people, Kendo has attracted many people around the country. Occasionally, tournaments are held in Los Angeles, attracting Kendo experts and the less skilled from many areas of the United States.

The class of '80 showed off its innovative prowess by becoming a class truly worthy of its praise and accolades. Easily handing the junior and sophomore classes Homecoming Week losses, the "Mighty Seniors" continued their winning ways all year long, contributing to excellent sports teams, Spirit Week competitions, and senior activities. Academics as well as physical excellence was prevalent throughout the Senior Class; competition in the classroom was as fierce as on the field. With the superb guidance of Mr. Robert Flores the Class 1980 Officers, Bill Umansky, Andy Lurie, Shari Myers, and Teresa Miller, provided the class with a strong and determined core that accomplished many fine feats such as a successful candy sale, Prom, and After-Prom. This graduating class had much to remember when the tassels were turned at the commencement ceremony—good teachers, good friends, good fun and the fond memories each and every '80 graduate will carry for a lifetime.

September 1979—the Class of 1980 returned to school, some reluctantly, to face the tough final high school year. Registration, the Welcome Assembly, and the Howdy Dance seemed like old hats to these “seasoned veterans” of two years. Watching Sophomores and Juniors marvel at school’s opening sites, the Seniors recalled their first impressions of Bonita Vista High School with fond memories. The pleasant weather and summery smiles that greeted the new Seniors also stirred memories—those of the past summer spent on the beach or at the desert. During that first week of September, as they started their last two semesters of high school, the Seniors looked back upon fine years, and looked forward to exciting years to come.

Participation was the name of the game this year for the BV Class of 1980. With jubilant enthusiasm the "Mighty Seniors" cheered on the senior dominated varsity teams, as well as ran for Congress or Class Officer. Homecoming Queen and Big Man on Campus contests proved the Seniors interest, as record breaking voter turnouts for these and other elections were the rule rather than the exception. Meanwhile, varsity teams enjoyed the ultimate in prideful support. The Seniors, carrying two years' worth of rowdiness with them to this 1979-1980 year, screamed and yelled at Pep Assemblies, keeping up traditional senior superiority!

The seniors were active in fundraisers this year, for it was their responsibility to pay for the prom, graduation, and the senior awards assembly. Some activities included a See's sucker sale, a Christmas candy sale and a donkey basketball game. Senior class officers and senior adviser Robert Flores headed these drives with the dedicated help of senior students. Overall the class did earn enough money and the senior activities all went very smoothly.

The Senior Lawn served as a handy meeting place for many students, seniors as well as underclassmen. Cheerleaders showing off a new stunt or Football players rehearsing a new play could frequently be seen "hanging out" by the senior wall, as lounging students or studying pupils congregated by the decorative tree or shrub-strewn back wall. After the school day was over, students could still be seen inhabiting the Senior Lawn area, summing up the day's events or preparing for events of days to come.

Constantly haunting some of the senior students this year were SAT's and Achievement Tests. These college entrance exams plagued students on Saturday mornings and created depression or elation as the scores were returned. Moreover, one topic of senior conversation was college, college, COLLEGE! As they wrote letters, filled out applications, sent transcripts, and obtained recommendations "Panic City" hit these college-bound seniors during the fall—winter months. A diversity of choices was available to these seniors and those who wanted a higher education took advantage of them. In April and May anxieties were relieved as acceptance letters rolled in.

Water gun fights, jump-roping, leap-frog, and "chicken" fights were but a few of the childish activities that Seniors could be seen engaging in virtually every school day on the Senior lawn. Although they experienced many maturing events during the year, Seniors found that relieving tensions through ornery activities could brighten any monotonous school day. As the class of '80 reaches adulthood, they will recall these regressions fondly and will cherish them along with all the memories of their high school days.

As the Year progressed, more and more seniors were attacked by a dreaded disease, commonly known as "Senioritis." Senioritis, a favorite medical term of the Bonita Vista students, involved such symptoms as acute boredom, chronic discontent, and habitual laziness. The diagnosis—most surgeon generals determine that observing a senior year deteriorate before one's eyes is dangerous to one's health. The cure—break the habit of senioritis and enjoy what time is left! Although this advice was ignored by a few, the majority of the senior class utilized their time wisely and made the most of their senior year.

Students Explore Cultures Outside Classroom

Traveling played a big part in many seniors' lives. Three fortunate students had the chance to visit Europe, the Phillipines, and Australia. Spending four weeks in Russia and Scandinavia, Shari Myers visited sites such as Lenin's tomb and was able to view "the mid-night sun" characteristic of Norway. Desiree Ang, found her roots in the Phillipines, visiting her many relatives along with her mother. Finally Michelle Pierce, became the proud recipient of an AFS scholarship that sent her to the Australian continent for her second semester of her senior year. These three girls proved that there certainly are more ways to learn than in the classroom.

Eric Helgeson contemplates last night's basketball game.

The 1979-1980 seniors spent much of their spare time engaging in activities outside of school. Part-time jobs and community service activities filled the time-void many seniors found in their once busy schedules. Frying hamburgers at McDonald's, candy-striping at Bay General, or student teaching at Sunday School were just three of the diverse extracurricular activities in which Seniors participated. Here again, the learning process was extended beyond the classroom, and the experience gained only helped these active seniors.

As the first semester of the senior year ended, students were relieved to have many of their final requirements over. Seniors finished classes in government, sociology, consumer ed, and other academic electives. As the class of '80 started their last semester at Bonita Vista High, students had a variety of choices. Depending on the person's future, schedules varied from only one class and work experience, to a full load with six academic classes.

However, the majority was anxious for the new semester to begin and end.
 Many activities were to occur within that time frame, and it would be the last semester ever spent in high school.

Seniors The Idols Of Underclassmen

When the students of 1980 were only in junior high and in their sophomore year, senior were their idols. They seemed so grown up and knowledgeable. Seniors were always the smartest, the best athletes and the ones who won class competitions. The sophomore J.V. player always seemed to look up to the ability of the football quarterback or the baseball starting pitcher while the intellectuals sought to model themselves after life C.S.F. members and 4.0 students. It seemed like an endless journey to the time when they would suddenly reach that point of maturity; that point of being #1.

Enthusiasm, Participation Dominate Senior Class

Participation was the name of the game this year for the B.V. class of 1980. With rowdy enthusiasm the "Mighty Seniors" cheered on the senior dominated varsity teams, as well as ran for Congress or Class Officer. Homecoming Queen and Big Man on Campus contests proved the Seniors' interest as record breaking voter turn outs for these and other elections were the rule rather than the exception. Meanwhile, varsity teams enjoyed the ultimate in prideful support. The Seniors, carrying two years' worth of rowdiness with them to this 1979-1980 year, screamed and yelled at Pep Assemblies to keep up the traditional senior superiority.

Chatter rebounds from the senior wall.

Glamour, Entertainment Capture Class of 1980

Guys and Gals alike became quite interested this year in the new movies, movie stars, and singers emerging on the scene. Richard Gere and Kenny Rodgers sent female hearts fluttering in "American Gigolo" and "You Decorated My Life," respectively. Popular movies like "10", "Kramer vs Kramer," "Hero at Large" and "Cruisin'", each provided a multitude of talented and foxy actors and actresses who proved they were not just a pretty face. Similarly "Blondie", The Knack", and "Styx" made available the same qualities. Bonita Vista students bought movie tickets and albums in abundance as they temporarily lost themselves in the glamour and entertainment.

Alice and Debbie recruit voters.

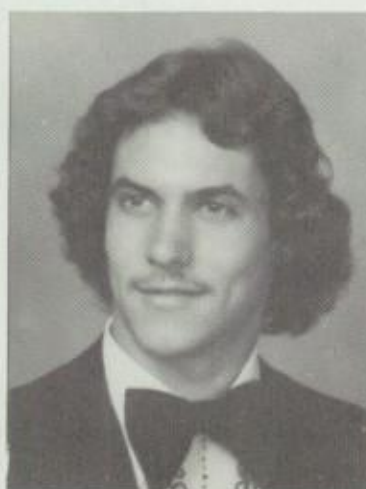

March, April, May . . . the waning months of the school year ebbed quickly for most seniors. Whether college, a job, or technical school waited for the graduating students, each of them knew that when the commencement exercise was only a memory, their high school experiences would carry them through their new vocation. Most Seniors would remember the football games, Round Table Pizza, SATs-Friday night at the Harbor, romance at the movies, dancing in the gym. But the remembrance of facts learned, skills acquired, and traits carefully developed would not only serve as reminders, but also as aids in the upcoming years. The Seniors had much to reflect back upon; the three years spent here at V.B. in preparation for the world of college, business, or trade would provide useful background, no matter which course in life each graduating student chose.

Scholarships, scholarships, scholarships brought on worry, anxiety and excitement. Scholarship winners were either chosen by the administration, by the actual organization or by a panel of judges. Each was chosen on either academic ability, school and community involvement or both. Often times students were surprised at being chosen and in some cases they worked hard to achieve

Matt Swider gives words of wisdom to friend Wes Cradic "If the shoe doesn't fit, don't wear it." an excellent essay or speech. One of the biggest fulfillments for these students was receiving an award at the Senior Awards Assembly. At this time, winners were given awards ranging from best all round athlete to a full ROTC scholarship.

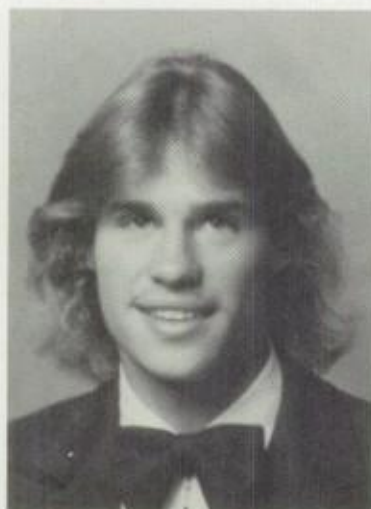

The prom this year was held at the Atlantis restaurant on May 30. Everyone came handsomely dressed, keeping with the theme "The Class with Class." Top hats and canes decorated the tables while a variety of appetizers provided the couples' refreshment. Loving couples strolled around the beautiful romantic bay area viewing the lighted waters and variety of carefully trimmed flora. As the music played, memories of past years drifted through conversation, while hopes and dreams for the future were shared. Some laughed, some cried, but all were filled with delightful excitement throughout the night. The Senior Prom was definitely a success, an event that was sure to remain imprinted in every attending couples' memories.

Seniors Frolic in a Land of Fantasy.

Seniors loaded buses on June 10th clad in suits, ties and dresses. It seemed like strange attire for a night at Disneyland but that night was special. It was to be the Class of 80's last senior activity, so along with hundreds of other graduate hopefuls, students flooded the gates of Disneyland for Grad Nite. Couples walked through lights and romance of tomorrowland and fantasy land while other groups of young men and women romped through Adventureland and explored Tom Sawyers Island. It was the last glance at childhood before heading out into the adult world ahead of them. Students danced with Donald Duck and Pooh while others wore Mickey Mouse hats and ate lollipops and frozen bananas. But as the evening came to a close, Baron seniors would remember that night for years to come.

Underclass

---

The 1979-1980 school year proved new and exciting for the Underclassmen as class and teacher changes and active ASB and Class Officer Organizations provided unique experiences throughout the year. As usual registration was "interesting," competition was "frustrating," but overall the 1979-1980 school year was enjoyable for every junior and sophomore. Mrs. Vicki Jones-Pittman and Mr. Dewey Matthews move to lead their respective Junior and Sophomore Class Officers to a productive year. Organization and enthusiasm were the prevalent attitudes. With Julie Steel at the helm and Gary Hunt, Allison Gibson, and Dea Giles in assistance, the juniors were a highly spirited and active class of '81. At pep assemblies, football games and basketball games the juniors displayed unmatched enthusiasm and pride. PSAT's and other pre-college activities prepared the juniors for their senior year.

Danny Umansky, Sarah Cooper, and Beth Precourt, elected early in the fall in an unnerving election, led their classmates to a spirited year also. The pep of the class of '82 helped get the sophomores through a crucial year—grades and activities were important to these students who are anxiously awaiting their senior year and then college.

The Junior Class members started out their second year at Bonita Vista with much vigor and enthusiasm. Throughout the year the Juniors were a great asset to Bonita. By participating on sports teams, in pep activities, in various campus clubs, and through their academics the Class of '81 displayed their interests and pride.

Shortly after school started this year, elections were held for congress members and sophomores class officers. The voter turnout was sparse but many interested underclassmen took part in their school government. Besides Congress and class officers, students had the opportunity to participate on various committees associated with the ASB throughout the school year.

Throughout the year, underclassmen established many new friendships. Numerous students were brought together through the various clubs on campus. Whether participating in club activities or just socializing, friends play an important role in every student's life. Although many friends may choose separate paths to follow, all Barons will never forget the friendships they acquired at Bonita Vista. Together they faced the long and often trying days, experienced the excitement of special activities, sponsored by the Associated Student Body, and celebrated Bonita's victories.

upcoming LIFE events.

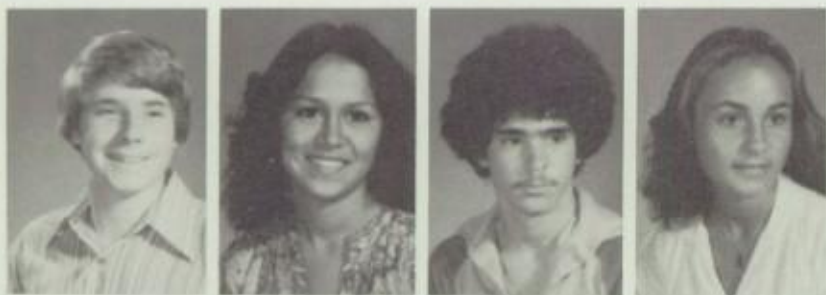

A great multitude of underclassmen participated in the LIFE program. All of the students involved enjoyed the freer environment and wide range of extra-curricular activities which the LIFE program had to offer.

In the LIFE program, the students are not divided into sophomore, junior, and senior classes; instead they like to consider themselves as "one big family."

A few activities in which the students in LIFE participated, were a trash-a-thon, which raised over six thousand dollars to help support the program, beach parties, swimming, trips, picnics, potluck dinners, and various other activities.

Barons united to show their spirit and pride. Throughout the year many underclassmen supported Bonita's numerous sports teams and school activities. With many students enthusiasm and participation in various activities, Baron Pride was evident at Bonita. We are proud of our sport teams, Associated Student Body, staff and students. Barons have pride and are eager to show it.

All-in-all 1979-1980 was a year all students will remember. Though the year held disappointments, many will tend to remember the best aspects of their high school years. The classes of 1981 and 1982 will return next year with strength and vigor. The underclassmen are proud of the graduating seniors of 1980 and eagerly await their chance to step into the seniors' shoes. High school years are the best years of our lives and what better place to spend them than at the best school, Bonita Vista High!

Faculty and Academics

Pressure, pressure, PRESSURE! Academics this year were extremely pressured as high school student competition, teacher enthusiasm, and administration involvement heightened the level of classroom tension. As usual the two AP courses on History and English, Physics and Chemistry courses, and Creative Writing courses were rigorous—teachers as well as students benefited from the strength displayed throughout Bonita's classrooms.

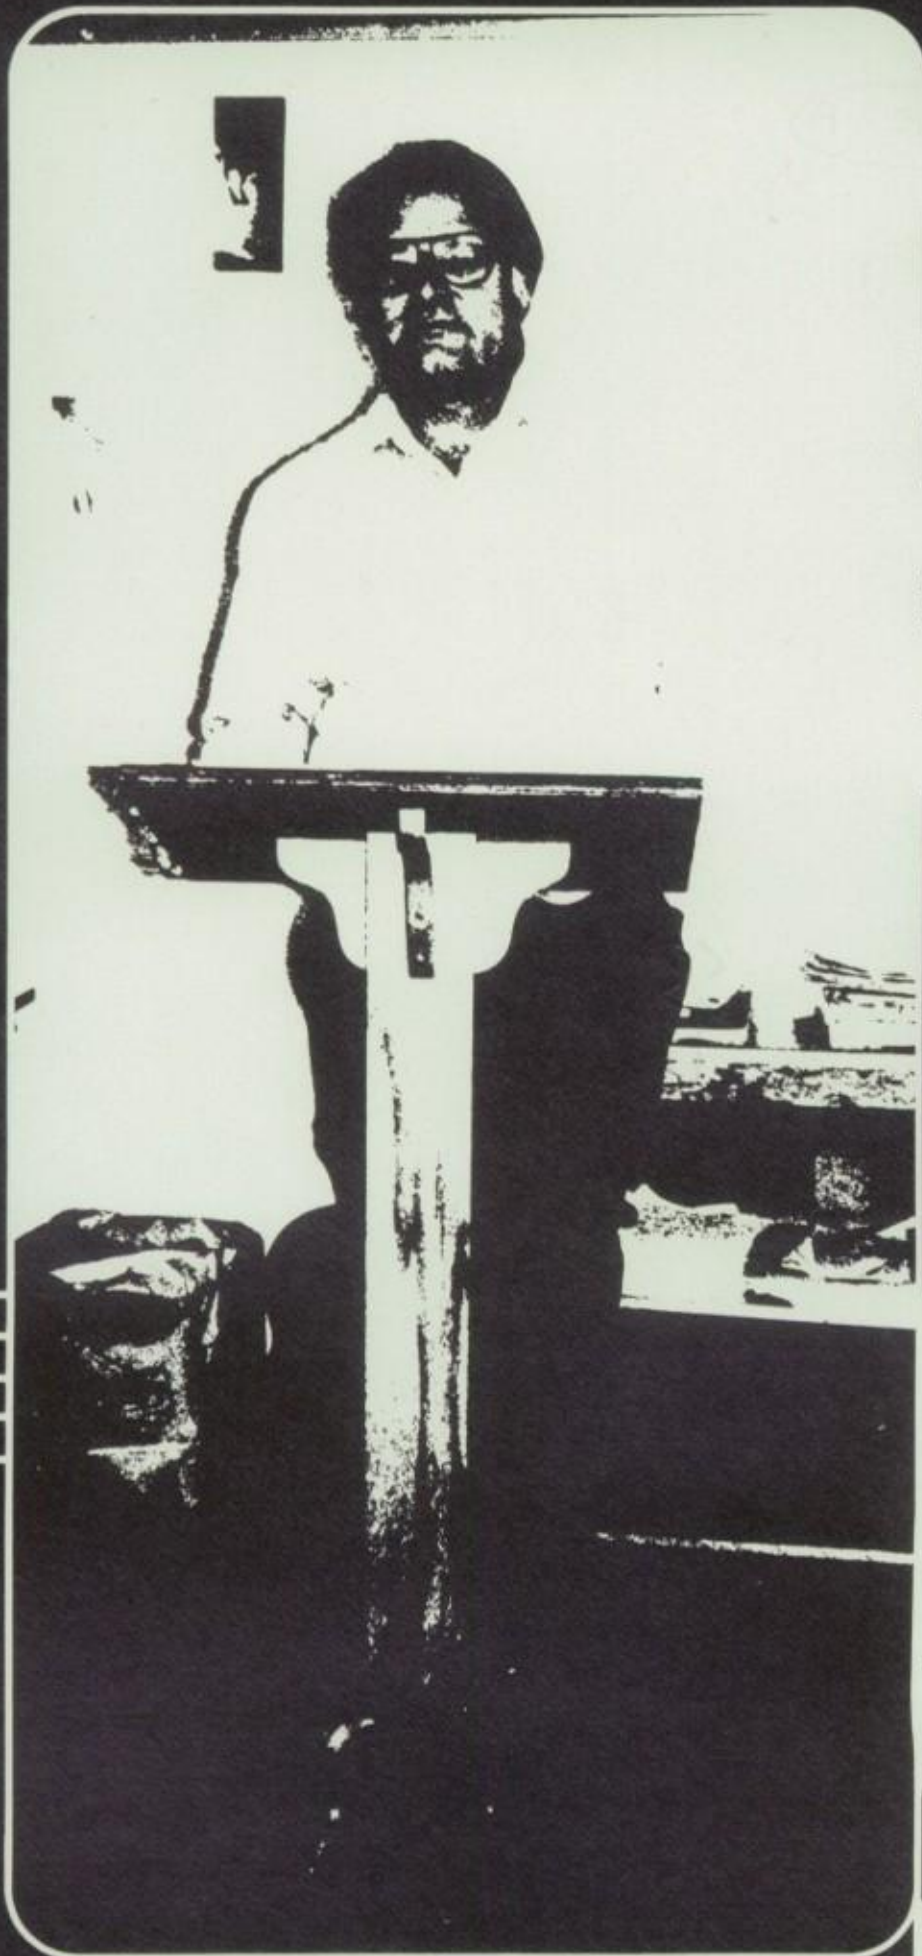

During Mr. Dale Newell's second year as principal, new teachers and counselors were added to compensate for a student influx. Mrs. Ruth Grouell left early in December to have a baby. Mrs. Marilyn Pluss and Mrs. Laurie Hutchinson were also newcomers to Counselor's Row. Mrs. Sharon Yaap, Ms. Lynn Payette, Ms. Bonnie Saferstein, Mr. Mike Morykwas, and Mr. Dewey Matthews were just a few of the new teachers who came to Bonita Vista in 1979.

New and old faculty members alike made 1979-1980 a memorable school year.

Administrators' Leadership Abilities Awe Students

This year administrators strove for communication and good relations between faculty and students. Each of the three was always visible on campus either visiting classes or patrolling the lunch area.

Former Jefferson High School ASB President Dale Newell enjoys being principal at Bonita Vista because he likes the great people here. Mr. Newell attended three colleges including Waynesburg College, SDSU, and Notre Dame.

A graduate of San Diego State and USIU, Mr. Neal Black has been our assistant principal for five years. Travel and sports are Mr. Black's favorite leisure time activities.

Ms. Karen Hunt was born in Baltimore, Maryland and raised in North Carolina. Ms. Hunt is married to a native Californian. Living in Coronado, Ms. Hunt enjoys California's weather, beaches, and mountains for hiking and skiing.

Friendly Counselors Aid Students In Developing Studies, Goals

With a supportive wife and six bright children Mr. Leonard Griego has a lot to love in California along with the beaches, climate, and terrific people. Mr. Griego feels "unless you ski you haven't lived," and tries to help everyone to enjoy skiing by advising the ski club here at Bonita.

Mrs. Paula Bingham likes the California sunshine under which she may enjoy her favorite pastimes which include jogging, playing tennis, and camping. Receiving her BA in French from Arizona State University and then earning her MA in counseling, Mrs. Bingham, once a teacher and a counselor, now counsels full time.

Ruth Grouell moved to California at the Navy's insistence. The weather and casual San Diego lifestyle prompted her to stay. Recently a new addition brightened the lives of Mrs. Grouell, and her husband, and their son, planting another homegrown San Diegan.

Clarence Uri was born in Nebraska but raised all over the United States, primarily in California. He attended local schools for his secondary and college educations. The great San Diego outdoors offers Mr. Uri and his wife a chance to travel and just spend time relaxing.

Marilyn Pluss is a new counselor at BVH this year, after a job at Mar Vista. A resident of Bonita since 1963, her daughter and son were both graduates of Bonita Vista. Mrs. Pluss enjoys Balboa Park, the Harbor, the beaches, and the Bonita area. Married to a native of Switzerland, Mrs. Pluss also taught for fifteen years before becoming a high school counselor.

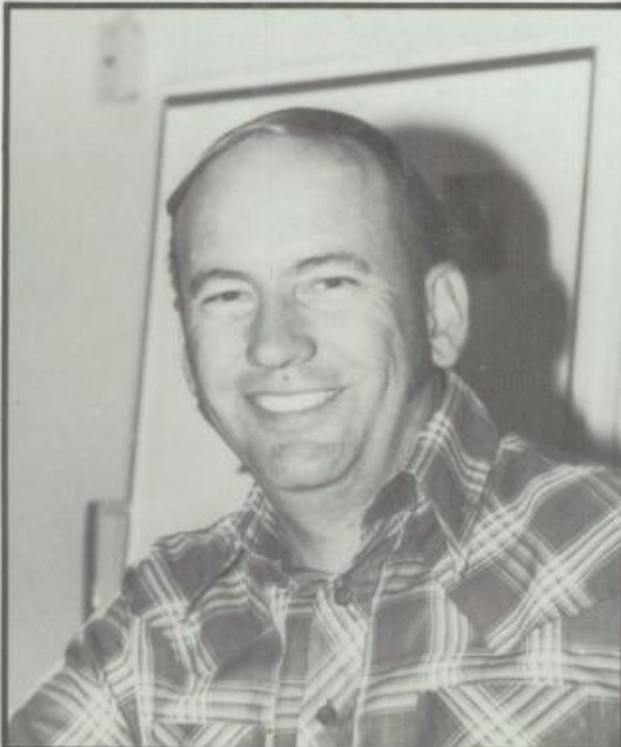

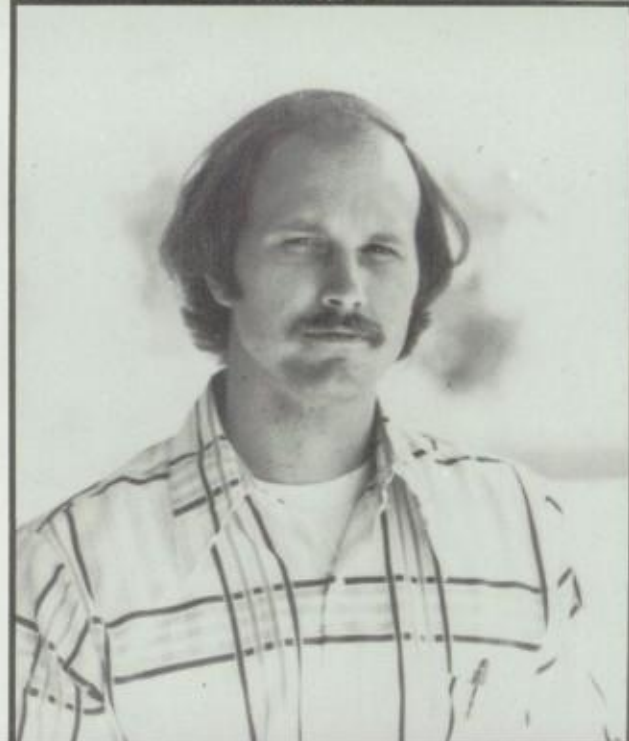

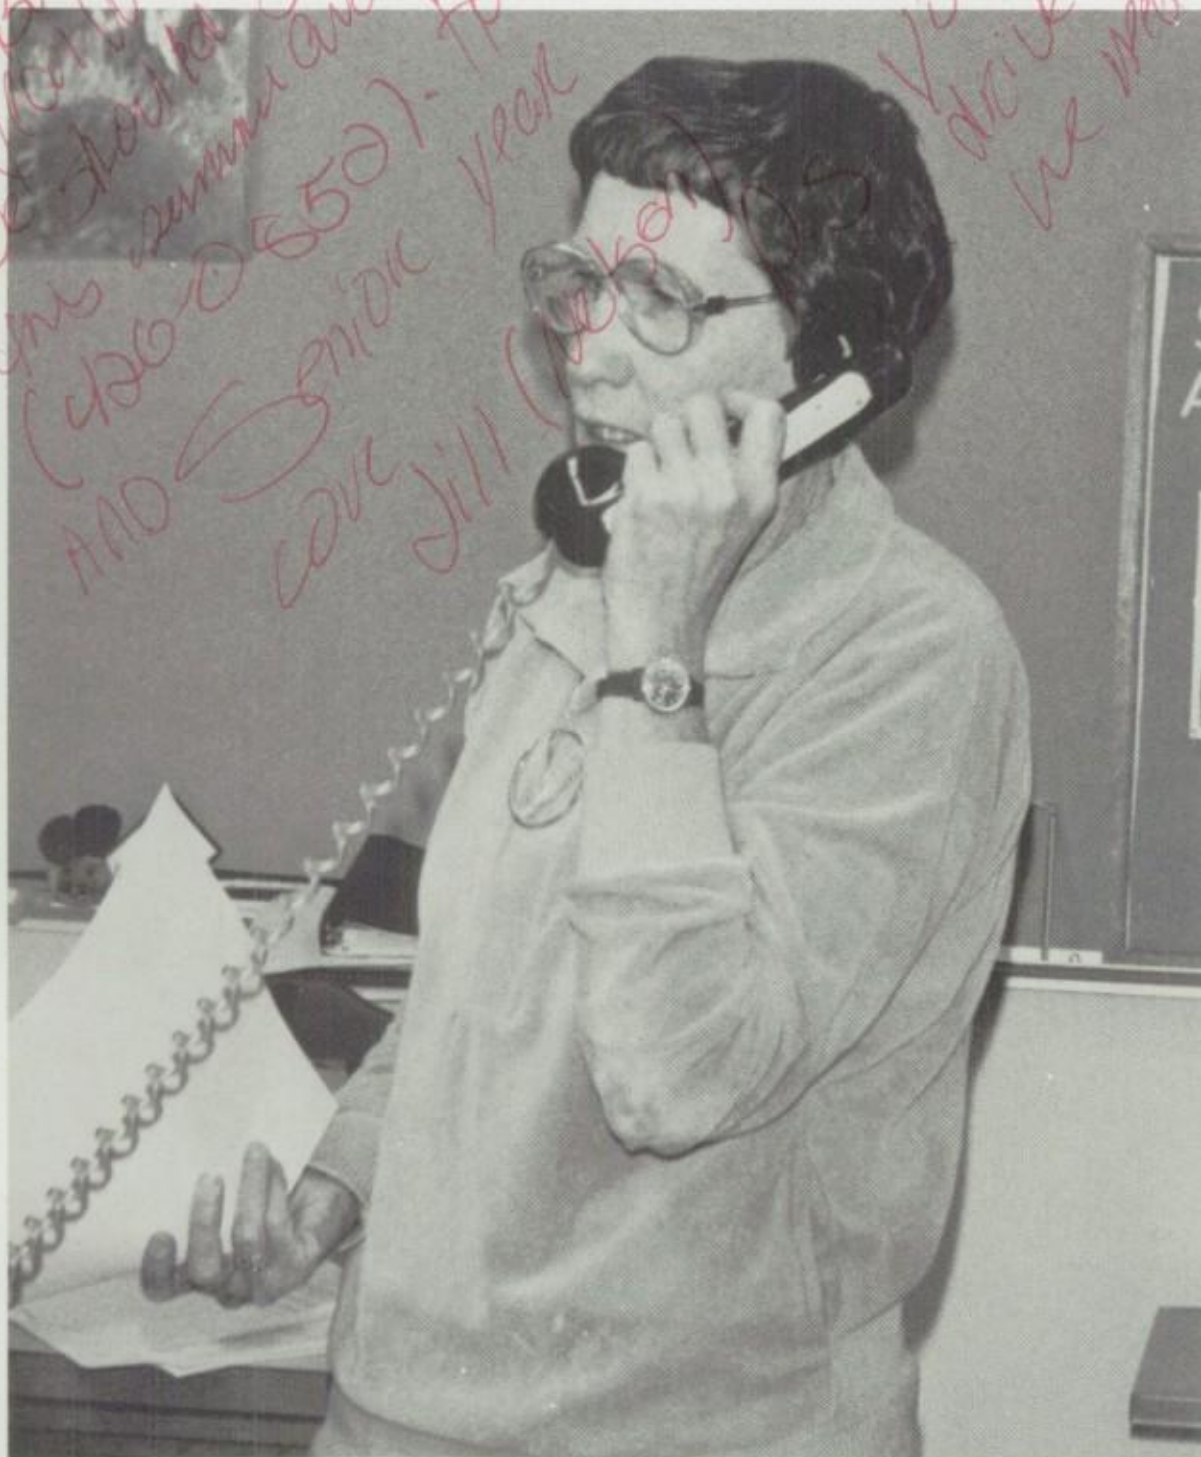

After Laurie Hutchison graduated from Clairemont High, and attended SDSU, she realized she liked the contact with students and went on to achieve a masters in counseling. After teaching at Mar Vista, Bonita Vista High became the site of her first counseling job. Along with the variety of people and activities here at BVH she also enjoys skiing, back-packing, and motorcycling. Looking towards the future, Ms. Hutchison would like to teach or counsel in New Zealand and participate in a home exchange program. However, along with her world wide interests, she also stated, "I will always return to San Diego."

LIFE Teachers Inspire Students Through Active Participation

Mrs. Dorothy Murphy likes to bike and hike in her spare time—which is rare! Born in Austin, Minnesota, Mrs. Murphy moved to California to attend San Diego State University. A former social case worker who also has a Master's in Education, she founded the L.I.F.E. program here at Bonita.

Mr. Paul Sawyer, who attended high school in San Francisco, attended San Diego State and received his B.S. in Biology. Surfing, scuba diving and photography are three hobbies of this science teacher.

Vicki Jones-Pittman, though born in Virginia, was raised in Chula Vista and graduated from Castle Park High School. Along with her husband, an art professor, Mrs. Jones-Pittman decided to stay when she found out "U.F.O.'s" were planning to converge on Jamul.

Ms. Sandra Grindle is a native Chula Vista who graduated from San Diego State University with a Bachelor's degree in Math. Along with teaching the difficult Math Analysis course, Ms. Grindle also teaches P.E. and instructs the Baronette Drill Team.

Newly-licensed Private Investigator, David Knight is originally from Escondido. He chose to stay in California because "a lot of places are super to visit, depending on the time of year, but California is excellent to live in year round."

English Department Broadens Horizons Through Literature, Composition

Named "Baron of the Year" for her hard work with the Annual Staff and in her AP English class, and for the support she lends to each and every one of her students, Mrs. Cheryl Selles went to college in Eugene, Oregon and moved to San Diego several years later. San Diego's pleasant working and living conditions prompted Mrs. Selles to settle in this city. The diligent Mrs. Selles says: "I enjoy teaching high school students because there are so many opportunities to make a significant contribution to someone's future."

Sharon Leslie left rainy Eugene, Oregon for a place with year round activities and a beautiful climate. Married to a San Diegan for nine years, the most important thing in their lives is their three year old daughter, Shannon.

Mr. Robert Flores was born in San Antonio, Texas, raised all over the U.S., and finally settled in San Diego and attended Kearny High School. Mr. Flores likes to go sailing and to the movies and currently is attending law school. Mr. Flores thinks San Diego is a unique city because it is clean and small, yet quite a metropolis.

Suzanne Bennett is a sixth generation Californian. The free and easy lifestyle and fine weather are what have convinced Mrs. Bennett to settle here in San Diego. Three sons, a husband who is a teacher, and Sam and Pialler—her dog and cat—make up the Bennett family.

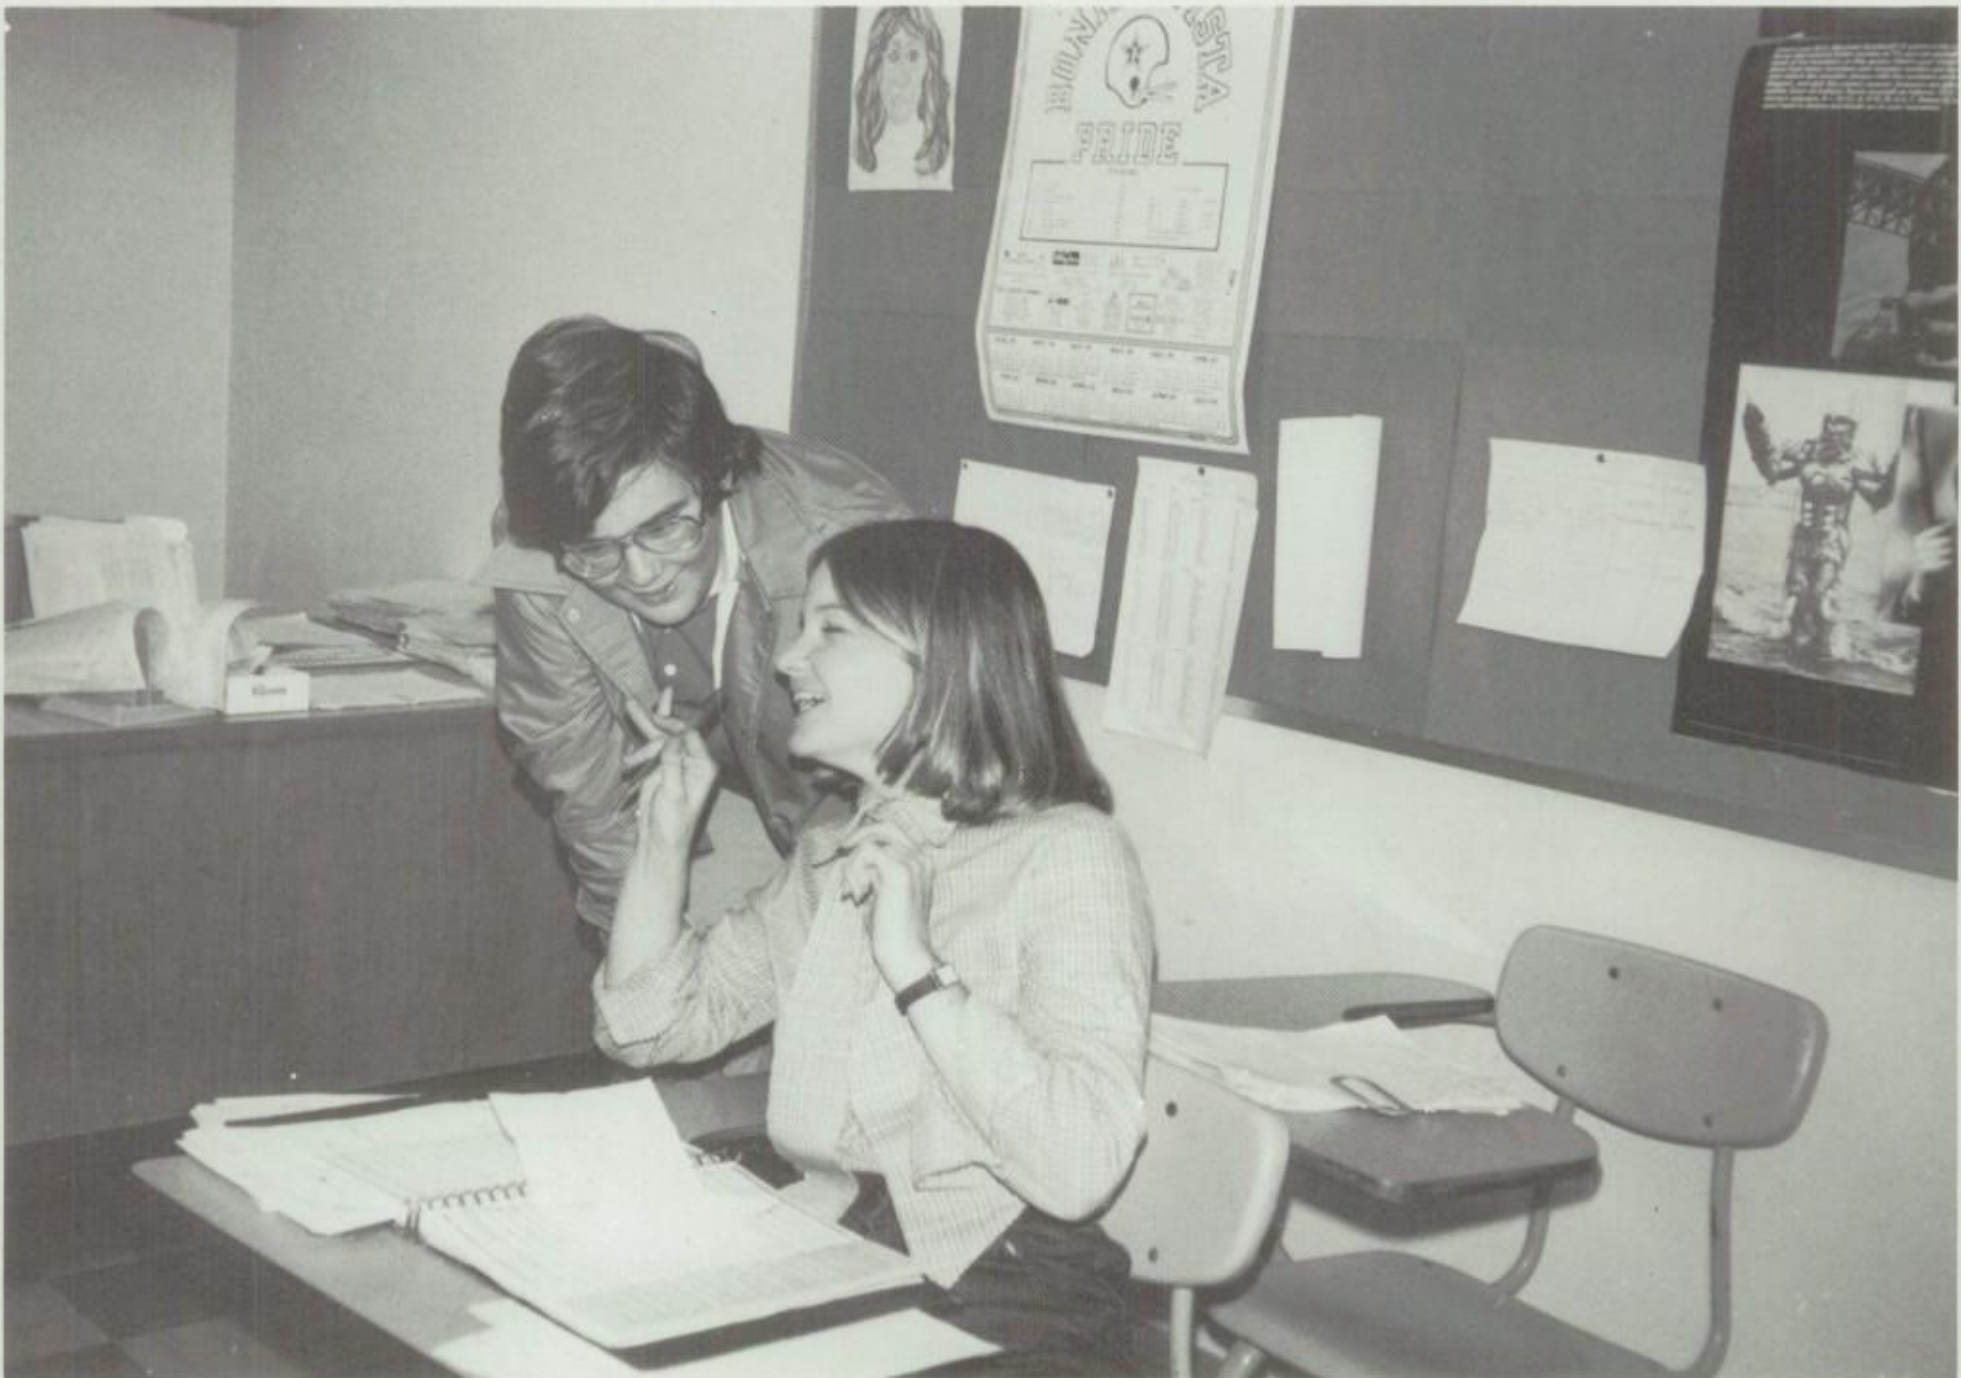

Jean Childs, whose father was in the military, was brought up all over the United States and Panama as well.

Along with her husband, two sons, and a dog and cat, Mrs. Childs has a family of botanical delights. In her words, we who live in San Diego are "really lucky."

Mrs. Sharon Yaap moved to California when she was ten years old and has been enjoying the many activities of the area, such as biplane wing-walking and hot air balloon racing, ever since. Mrs. Yaap has her BA in journalism and received her Master's from USIU. Presently she is working on her Doctorate which she expects to earn by May.

Language Arts Enlivens Students' Daily Curriculum

Anne Ransburg, raised in Indiana, moved to California one week after she said "I do." Along with her husband and two daughters, Mrs. Ransburg enjoys California's varied landscapes and San Diego's myriad of activities.

Ms. Jaci Toth, originally from Cleveland, Ohio, likes San Diego because she can go camping, white river rafting, or mountaineering without ever leaving the state. After travelling all over California, Ms. Toth settled in San Diego "because I fell in love with it."

Randy Poston is a Bonita Vista High School graduate. After graduating from Point Loma College with a BA in speech and literature, Randy returned to Bonita as the director of Campus Life. Now an oral communications teacher, Randy loves teaching at his high school alma mater.

Nancy Shepard, raised in Burbank, lives with her cat, Sabrina. Though she loves every aspect of San Diego living, she also travels. Ms. Shepard has trekked overland from Capetown to Cairo and hopes to vacation on the moon in her lifetime.

Ms. Lynn Payette likes the idea of living so close to Mexico and where it does not get too cold. Ms. Payette has travelled to many places during her lifetime including Europe, the Carribbean, Central America, Africa, and Southeast Asia, where she lived for a while when her father took a job with the state department.

Mike Morykwas, an avid fan of rock, used to play this kind of music before he decided to pursue a career in education. A native Californian, Mr. Morykwas attended UCLA and had a chance to study in Spain at the University of Madrid. Mr. Morykwas recently married a nurse who graduated from a school in this district.

Desire To Help Characterizes

Brought here with his family at five years old, Ralph Carrier is now caught up in San Diego's activities. While living here Mr. Carrier fell in love with a San Diegan and has been happily married for eleven years. Their daughter is now two years old and is as "attractive as her father."

"I like it" are Mrs. Bernice Kellogg's words when asked to describe her feelings about San Diego. A graduate of Point Loma High and USC, Mrs. Kellogg is now working toward her state license in family therapy.

Michele Rountree loves the "beauty"

that is California's. Originally from the northern part of the state, Ms. Rountree came to San Diego in order to attend SDSU. Friendly and casual people make San Diego enjoyable to Ms. Rountree.

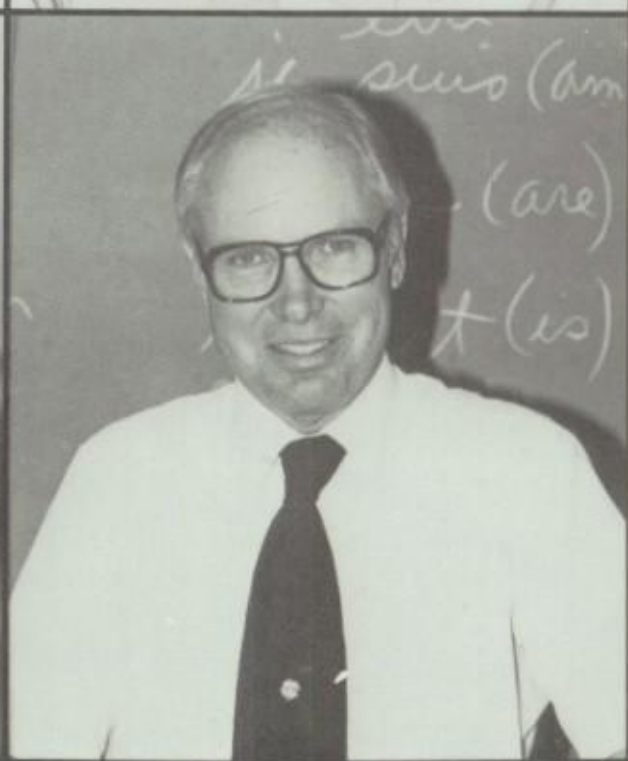

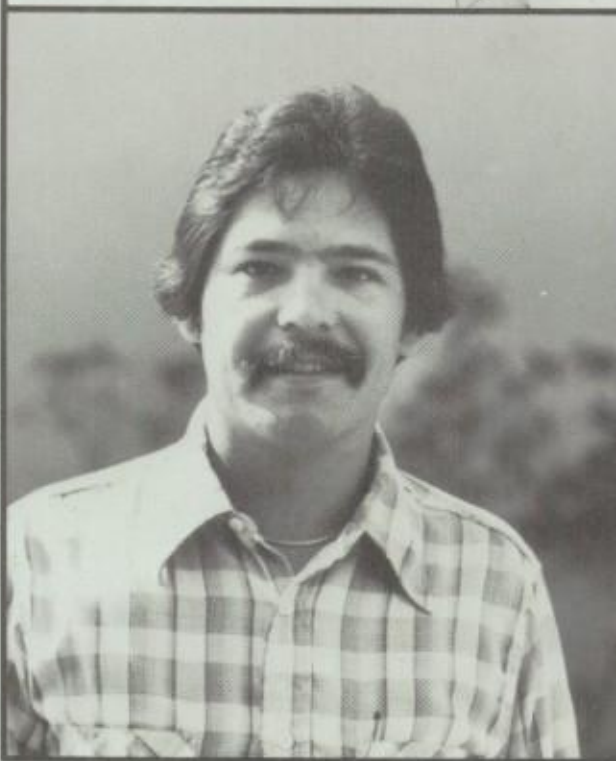

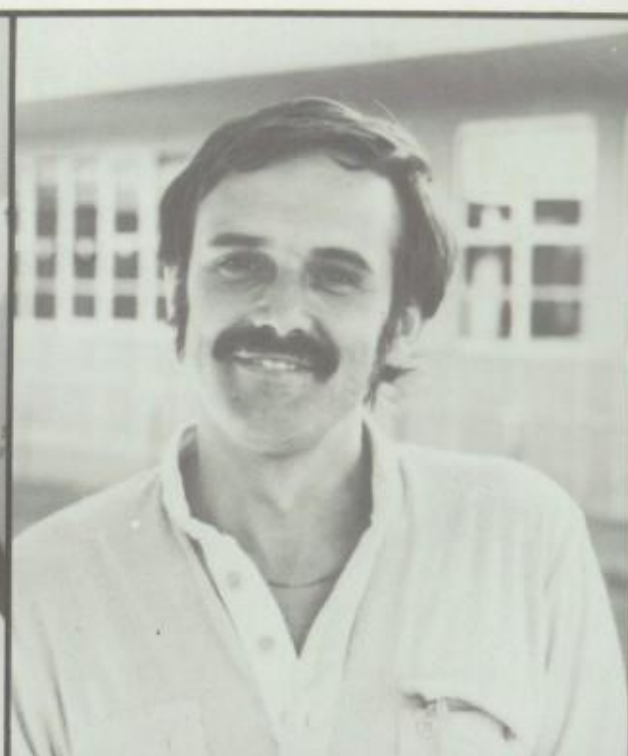

Jean Finley pioneered to San Diego in 1973 with her husband and four children. The Finleys felt California offered a better environment in terms of attitudes, climate, and a spectrum from which each individual can seek his preference.

Ms. Bonnie Saferstein, originally from Akron, Ohio, moved to California five years ago. She enjoys all the exciting recreational activities available for a San Diegan—the beach, the mountains, and the desert give Ms. Saferstein the greatest pleasure. Ms. Saferstein also loves San Diego's weather. She says: "I got too old for the cold."

Mr. George Clayton feels "there is no better place" than California. Celebrating his 25th anniversary in June, Mr. Clayton has four children and has lived in San Diego for fifty years. Mr. Clayton is a dedicated teacher who says: "I still enjoy teaching Spanish after twenty-five years."

Jose Lopez was named "Teacher of the Year" because of his practical and casual approach to the sometimes tedious subjects of history and government. Mr. Lopez has a unique personality which makes him a pleasure in the classroom. Originally from Spain, this former New Yorker enjoys San Diego's temperate climate and beautiful terrain.

Mr. David Vega remained in California because he lacked a sense of adventure. This father of two is married to an elementary school teacher. A graduate of San Diego State, Mr. Vega likes San Diego's cosmopolitan yet casual lifestyle and availability of year round sports enjoyment.

Patrick Wolff, a teacher for twenty-seven years, replied when asked why he chose to stay in San Diego: "Is there any place else?" The variety in San Diego's lifestyles is what gives Mr. Wolff and his family the most pleasure.

Mr. Angel Martinez was involved in track, basketball, band, jazz band, and orchestra at Barstow Union High School in Barstow, California. Mr. Martinez has a bachelor's degree in Music.

Mr. Ron Bolles, who moved to California from Texas when he was two, is practically a "native." He says: "California has everything. Whatever we don't have, we don't need!" Mr. Bolles likes to go sailing or running in his spare time, but the BVH Music Machine is Mr. Bolles' greatest activity.

Mrs. Elaine Watt moved to San Diego when her husband wanted to do graduate work at San Diego State University. Originally from Waterloo, Iowa, she feels that the climate in Southern California allows one to remain active all year long; one needn't "hibernate for six months due to snow and cold."

Ms. Sandra Grandison believed that settling in California was a childhood dream, for no one in his right mind would stay in Indiana. Snow, water, sun, mountains, and desert all attract Ms. Grandison to this area. Moving about through Bonita's halls on roller skates, Ms. Grandison prefers to teach P.E. at Bonita Vista because the students are "Great—truly enjoyable."

The number one running enthusiast in the South Bay area, Wayne Whitby enjoys San Diego's great weather and abundant amount of recreational opportunities. Mr. Whitby lives with his wife, son and daughter, and labrador, Buck.

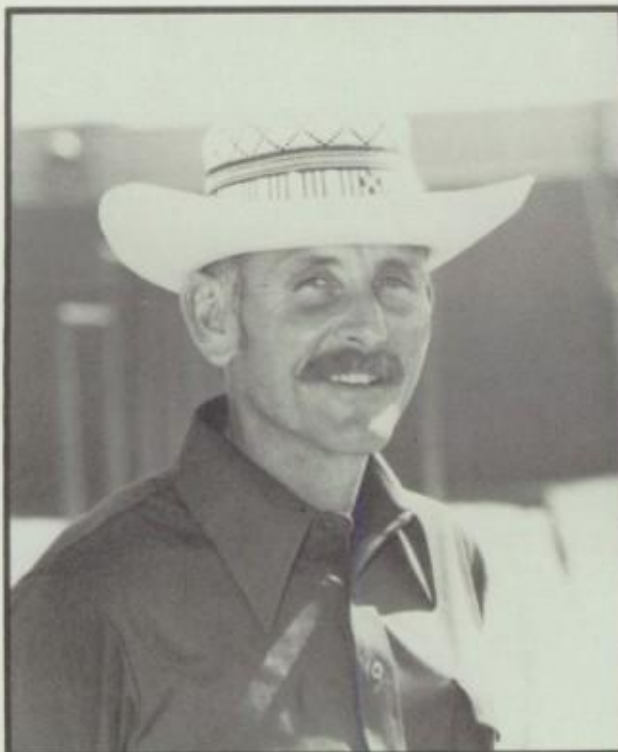

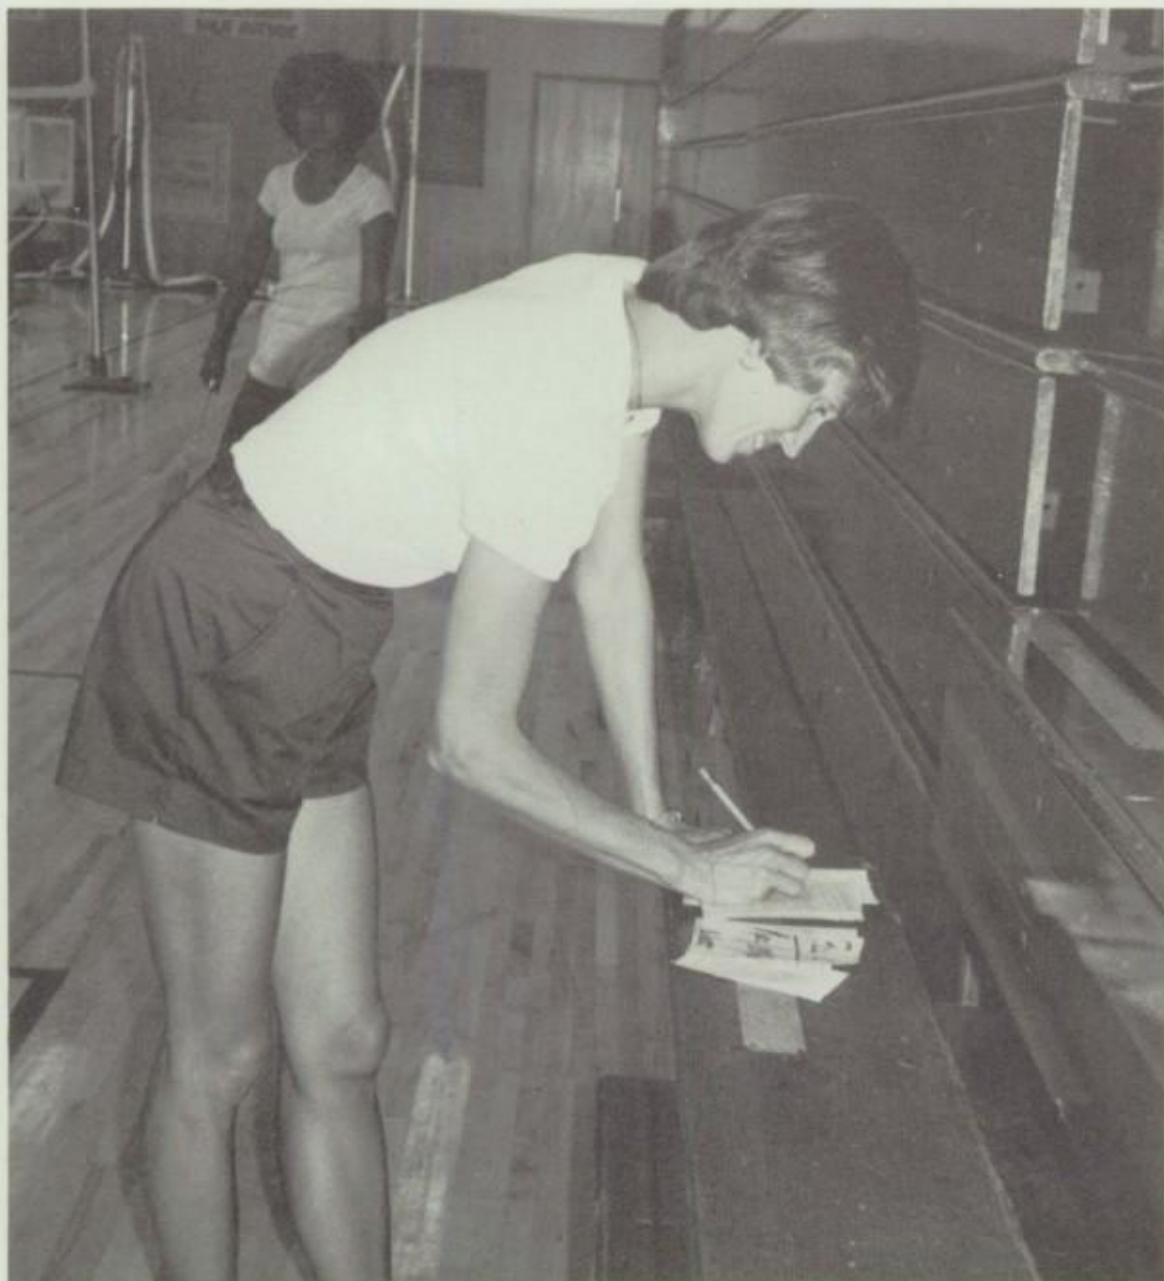

Pasadena born, Janet Kimball settled in California because, "it's a native's privilege" to enjoy this area's sunshine, relaxed atmosphere, and pleasurable job opportunities. Ms. Kimball's family resides in Lake Tahoe and she has twin brothers who run the "Bixie" tourist boat on the lake.

High school football, basketball, and baseball letterman Larry Roberts has always enjoyed sports and now keeps busy by teaching P.E. and coaching Bonita's highly successful Baseball team. Mr. Roberts plays racquetball, goes to the beach, and watches pro sports in his leisure time.

"Super Baron" Charles Schanke who, it is suspected, is secretly planning to dye himself blue and gold for the next school year, began teaching in North Hollywood, became an official for the Sweetwater Union High School District, and then began teaching at Bonita in 1977. Mr. Schanke's wife is also an avid Blue and Gold fan; the Schankes even have a Golden Retriever!

Mr. Robert West came to San Diego because he is a hedonist and "this is hedonist heaven." Seriously—a native Chula Vista, Mr. West enjoys teaching in Chula Vista and coaching Bonita's football team.

Mr. Moomaw, married to a native

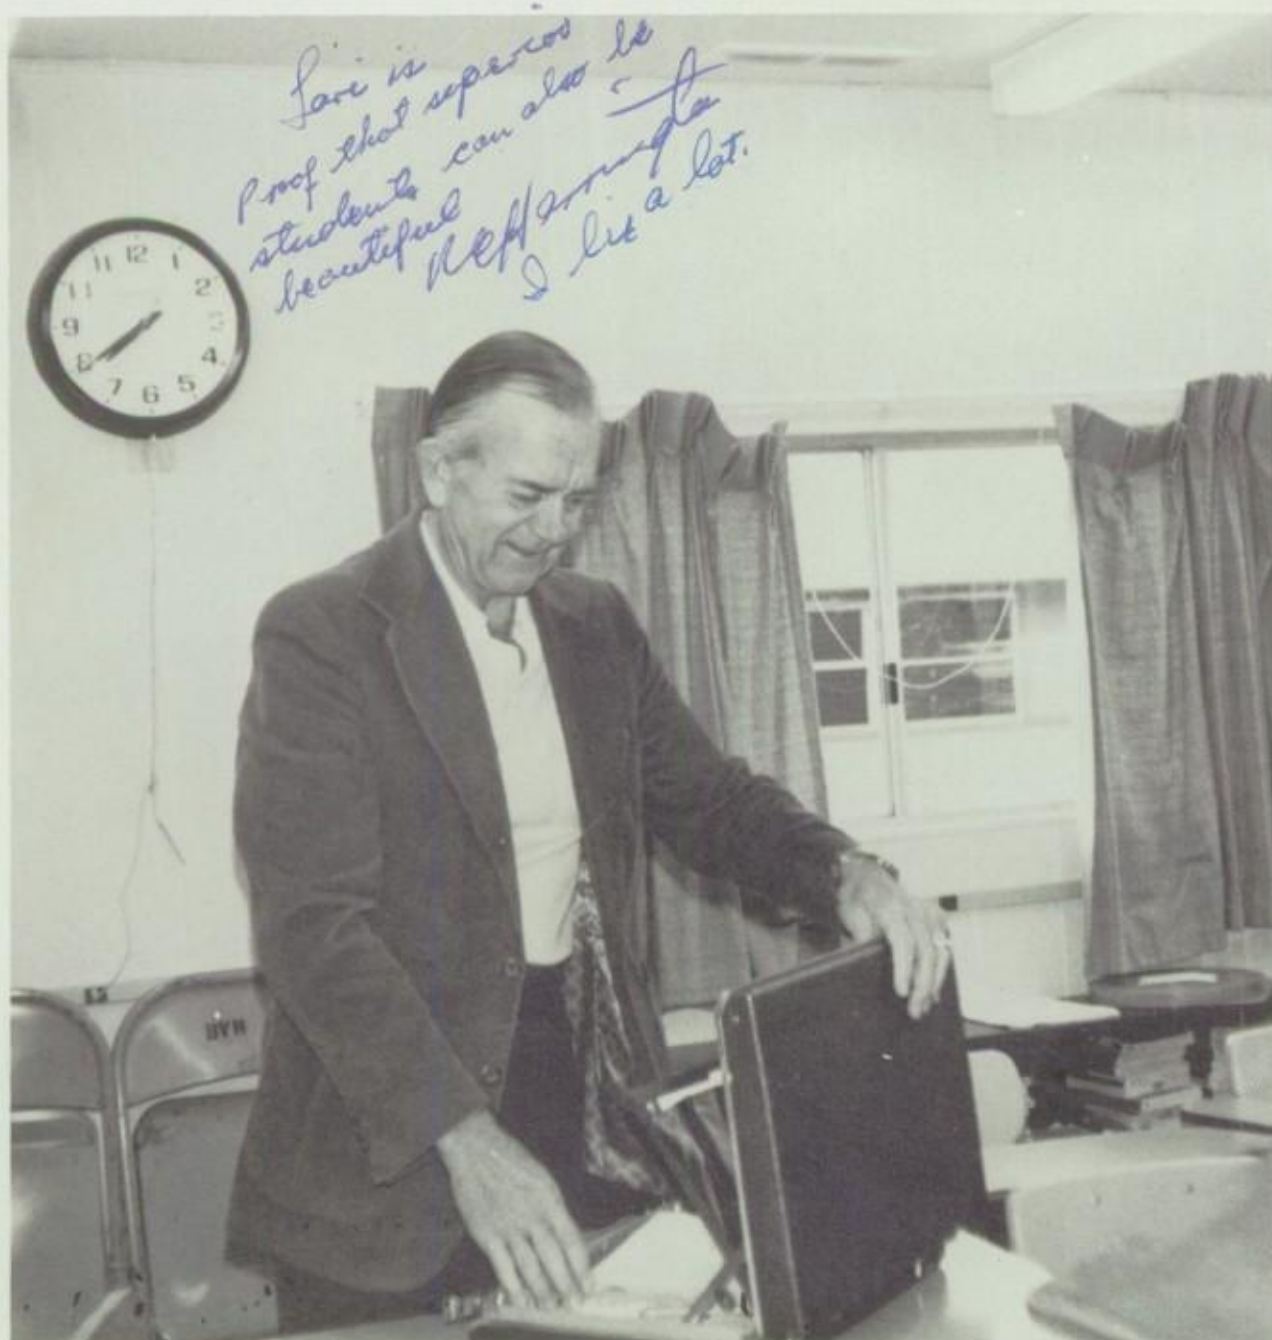

San Diegan and father of five grown children, attended Montana University and moved to California because he loved the rugged outdoor life—especially the rigors of the driver's training cars!

Chicago born Pat Judd was raised in the San Fernando Valley and graduated from SDSU. Once an 8-year rugby player, Mr. Judd's high school interest was in investing and financial planning; however, this father of two chose teaching instead.

Mr. David Tipton graduated from Stanford University and came to coach at Bonita after a career as a professional football player. Mr. Tipton enjoys the "weather, people, and political climate" California offers.

Native Idahoan Mr. Robert Harrington has only two words to say for California—climate and climate. Before moving to San Diego, Mr. Harrington attended Lewis and Clark High School in Spokane, Washington and the University of Omaha.

Cross-Country and Track coach Chip Holmes has led these teams to many fine wins over the past years. Mr. Holmes is a very versatile teacher—sociology, history, and English are just three of the subjects he teaches.

Social, Natural Sciences Awaken

Ms. Rexanne Ring is originally from California, so has always known of the pleasures of the area. Ms. Ring attended San Diego State and is now working on her Masters in dance. Along with her dog, Toto, she loves all sort of outdoor activities, especially the beach.

Not wanting to be separated from his mother, Mr. Jim Wilson moved to California from North Platt, Nebraska. He really enjoys everything about California living and he thinks himself Sugar Pop Sweet!

Mrs. Beryl Mealy has four children all out of high school so she is able to enjoy the casual lifestyle of sunny San Diego! Born in Los Angeles, Mrs. Mealy moved to San Diego when she got married. She attended college both here and in LA.

Born and raised in Ohio, Mr. Jim Pendleton came to California as a Navy transfer in 1966. He too enjoys the San Diego weather and the casualness that San Diego provides. He takes great pride in auto restoration and loves to be with his nine year old daughter and his wife, who teaches at a Chula Vista city school.

Thaine Simmonds was transferred by his company from Kansas to San Diego and the pleasant climate and casual lifestyle prompted him to stay. Mr. Simmonds enjoys teaching and working with young people; his effectiveness as a teacher and advisor in the classroom carries over to his home, for he has helped one of his children—his daughter—become a successful competitive diver.

A lover of pleasant weather and the ocean, Darryl Mazarella settled in San Diego at 15 years of age. A graduate of "Green Scum" high school, "Mazz" has a wife and a small menagerie at home. It includes two dogs, a snail, two fish, and one hermit crab. In his spare time Mazarella enjoys camping, rock climbing, and backpacking.

Photography and playing the piano are Mr. Michael Sisson's hobbies. Having been an excellent basketball player at Hoover High, Mr. Sisson went to SDSU where he received his BA in industrial arts and minored in math.

Fred James is genuinely a native of this area. Born in San Diego and raised in National City, Mr. James graduated from Sweetwater High and San Diego State. He enjoys California living because it provides easy access to a wide variety of recreational opportunities such as the beach, mountains, desert, and a selection of cultural and sporting activities.

Ms. Mona Trunkfield, born and raised in California, received her Master's Degree from San Diego State. This art teacher chose to reside in California because "the West has a lot happening in art."

A native San Diegan, Mr. Brian Matsumoto enjoys the San Diego summers, the mild weather, and the close proximity of many activities. Other than teaching auto fundamentals he has interests in antique, classic, and sports cars. And when he's not working with cars, he's fishing, preferably in the ocean.

A graduate of Hoover High and San Diego State, Mr. Bob Hanlon enjoys California's year-round pleasing weather. The Pennsylvania born and raised Mr. Hanlon "Opted for sun and fun instead of snow and glum."

History teacher Mr. Thomas Larsen graduated from San Diego State. Unstructured classes and personal contact with each and every one of his students is Mr. Larsen's method for teaching an informative as well as fun history class.

Fine Arts, Practical Arts Play Vital Role In Students' Development

Mr. Don Mumper, a teacher at Bonita Vista for many years, has implemented quite a few successful programs during his tenure. Closed-circuit t.v. classes and advanced drama classes, as well as a fun-filled drama club are just three of the developments Mr. Mumper has initiated.

In 1967 Mrs. Janet Lawry moved from Ohio to San Diego in order to teach here and enjoy the beautiful climate. A business and typing teacher, Mrs. Lawry also enjoys jogging and participating in outdoor activities.

Jack Charles moved from upstate New York to California to work here. He attended four colleges—St. Johns University, Ohio University, Kent State, and San Diego State. Mr. Charles' two children have given him and his wife four grandchildren.

Mrs. Linda Hendricks was born in California and finds living in San Diego a fantastic way to go! In her words she says it all, "I enjoy the weather, the beach, the relaxed lifestyle, and the small big-city atmosphere that San Diego has."

Born and raised in Glendale, California, Jean Alvord is a third generation native Californian. A pioneer family, her great-grandparents came to California in a wagon train to the San Francisco area and helped settle Los Angeles. She has two children and three grandchildren, fourth and fifth generation Californians. Mrs. Alvord is going to stay in San Diego because it has the best beaches and climate in the world.

Patricia Slijk, who has visited fifty-seven countries including China last summer, married an exchange student from Holland whom she met when she attended UC Berkeley. Originally from Minnesota, Mrs. Slijk arrived in California via Arizona State University. She enjoys San Diego's beaches, mountains, and deserts—to her, San Diego has "everything."

Math Department Offers Diversity In Teachers, Curriculum

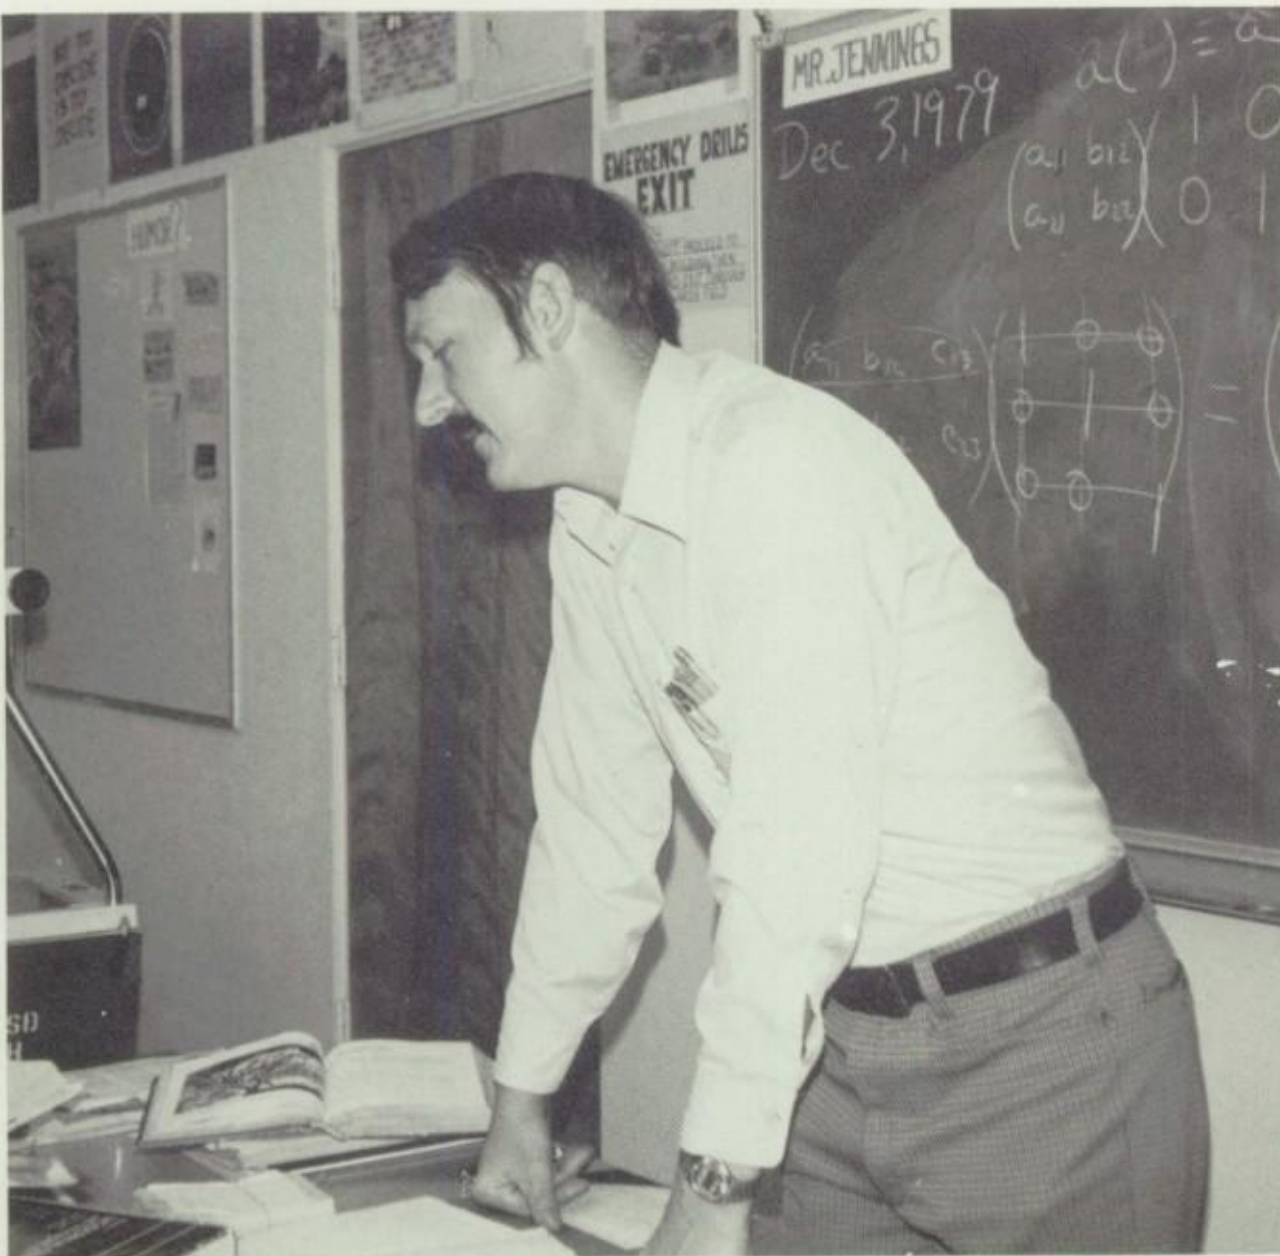

John Grande moved from his home state Minnesota after being graduated from Hamline University. Along with teaching in a highly reputed educational system, Mr. Grande enjoys "being close to the ocean in summer and the mountains in the winter."

Coming to San Diego because of the US Navy, Mr. Donald Jennings is now teaching math here at Bonita Vista. A graduate of the US Naval Academy, he and his friends really enjoy the variety of landscapes and activities in California.

Diego provided. Before becoming a teacher, he spent four years as an aerospace engineer working on the Apollo and Surveyor projects and served as a Naval officer for three years. He also works as a part time technician at UCSD and as a Civil Services Physicist at Point Mugu. A very diversified man, he also enjoys recreation activities such as backpacking, sailing and cross country alpine skiing.

Mr. Bill Foley was born in Tina, Missouri, but raised in Chula Vista. After attending Baker University in Kansas and the University of Illinois, Mr.

Foley—whose wife is an interior designer and whose two young daughters are "exceptionally good tennis players"—returned to California because of the excellent weather and myriad of sports opportunities.

Jon Minich was a 1965 Mt. Miguel graduate, having moved to San Diego when he was ten years old. He enjoys San Diego's casual lifestyle. Mr. Minich feels that happiness is being at peace with oneself, enjoying close family ties, and having "wonderful, active, stimulating, and loving friends." Mr. Minich thinks "teaching is great!"

Larry Fernandez, "a native son," migrated to San Diego to attend SDSU. He never left California mostly because of the pleasing climate. He likes working with high school students, trying to encourage productive and positive attitudes among athletes, students, and faculty.

John Giles Jr. moved to California for a change of scenery and liked the temperate climate. Mr. Giles has a wife—a former teacher—and four children. He attended five colleges, including Abilene Christian University and San Diego State.

Office Staff Maintains Cheerful Attitude, Works Efficiently

Bonita Vista Secretaries, who maintained their usual distinctive brand of cheerfulness, ran an efficient office this year as a new attendance policy and growth of the student body increased these ladies' work loads. Mrs. Marian Schemmer and Mrs. Marilyn Clark were on hand every morning to process returning students. Mrs. Joan Owens, the counselors' secretary, helped students find college information and fill out scholarship applications, as Mrs. Val Fredrickson prepared their transcripts for rapid delivery to prospective colleges. The jobs of each secretary are varied and numerous, and the special group here at Bonita seemed to handle the tasks with a minimum of difficulty.

In addition, Rick Wilson, aid to the assistant principals, could always be seen roaming the halls or parking lots in search of truant students. Even with his unpleasant job, Mr. Wilson managed to maintain a high level of amiability.

Mrs. Charlene Fox, school nurse, provided comfort and assistance to all the ailing Barons of 1979-1980. This active woman, who also loves to jog and go swimming in the ocean, finds being a school nurse very rewarding because she comes in contact with so many students. Because of this, Mrs. Fox could always be seen saying "Hello" to a passer-by.

Librarian, Cafeteria Workers Perform Helpful Services

Henrietta Giesler moved to California from Detroit, Michigan "when the Mid-western winters and summers became too unbearable to make this part of the country a permanent home." She attended Point Loma High School, San Diego State and UC Berkeley. For Mrs. Giesler, librarians "run in the family"—her sister is Hilltop's librarian.

Mrs. Winnie Huff enjoys living in California because she likes the people here. Along with her librarian assistant duties, Mrs. Huff becomes involved with some "interesting" activities like chaperoning at Leadership Camp. Mrs. Huff's pleasant personality extends to every student she comes in contact with.

The preparation of daily hot meals and a la carte lunch items as well as freshly baked cookies for the mid-morning break was only one of the cafeteria ladies' many jobs. Cheerful management of student food venders and prompt behind-the-scenes coordination of serving food and washing dishes in order to provide a pleasant lunch period—the Bonita Vista Cafeteria ladies worked hard to make every student and teacher a little happier during the much appreciated afternoon rest.

Custodians, Bus Drivers Provide Vital Link With Students

The bus drivers provided a much needed service to many students at Bonita Vista. Delivering hundreds of high school students to and from the campus along crowded and winding roads was the bus drivers' usual routine. Many students utilized the school bus service and were not disappointed with the prompt and speedy driving of the bus drivers.

The most needed and least recognized people around the Bonita Vista campus were the janitors. These able-bodied, smiling, and diligent men provided invaluable service to every student, teacher, and administrator. Whether picking up trash from the lunch area or setting up microphones for assemblies, the janitors, under the direction of Marv Crim, were always helpfully underfoot, ready to lend a hand to make things run smoothly.

Teacher Involvement Adds Color To B.V.'s Campus

This year's faculty engaged in unique and interesting experiences, as classroom instruction was coupled with active participation throughout 1979-1980. Play-acting, sports coaching, and club advising were just three of the supplemental obligations of the teachers. At the end of the year students were able to look back upon their teachers with respect and admiration for their superb handling of all their varied duties.

Because of San Diego's climate, schools in this area are given the opportunity to play sports all year round. Softball and soccer have no problem here in San Diego with snow covered fields in the winter, and the track team is not significantly slowed down by minimal amounts of rain in spring. Consequently Bonita Vista athletes can work out or compete in some sport all school year long—most work out during summer vacation too! This requires long hours of dedication, concentration, and physical strain, but the Bonita Vista Barons have always been known for that.

Playing a Bonita Vista High School athletic team has always been a tremendous challenge to other schools in the district, whether because of strong competition or fierce rivalries, and the 1979-1980 sports seasons were no different.

Winning has always been a tradition at BVH and this year's teams such as the football, volleyball, baseball, and track teams—just to name a few of the superior athletic organizations—kept up that tradition with winning seasons and Metro titles.

The 1979 Bonita Vista Football Team performed exceptionally well during the season and kept playoff hopes alive until the last game of the year. Their respectable fourth place finish in the Metro League was a result of a 6-3 record.

The first contest for the Barons was against Sweetwater. With the score tied at the half at six points apiece, Bonita went into the second half with high hopes but then fell victim to a strong Sweetwater defense. The game ended in a loss for the Barons with a score of 13-6.

The next game against Marian was a closely-fought victory for the Barons. The 93 yards rushing by Tim East and two interceptions by Guy LeCompte added to the extra point kick by David Darrin that led to a 7-6 Baron victory.

Baron Pride Leads to Victory

Confidence and enthusiasm were running high on the Bonita team as they faced their next opponents—Castle Park. The Barons scored twice during the game. Joe Brunkhorst got a 56-yard Reid Sholl pass for one touchdown while Duane Ferguson plunged one yard for the second score. The Trojans were plagued by penalties and a strong Bonita defense to give the Barons a victory over Castle Park—for the first time in Bonita history.

In the contest with Southwest, the Baron passing game came to the fore as Reid Sholl completed five of eight passes for 140 yards. Touchdowns were scored by Joe Brunkhorst, Mark Green, and Chris Burris while David Darrin kicked two extra points. In this victory Brunkhorst had four receptions for 113 yards while Green rushed 85 yards on 10 carriers.

The following week, the Barons met

Coronado, hoping to continue adding to the win column. Because of a Darrin field goal and a Duane Ferguson one yard touchdown run, Bonita entered the second half with a 10-0 lead. Unfortunately, the Islanders scored one field goal and two touchdowns to win the game.

In the next game against Mar Vista, the Barons put forth all they had as they whipped the Mariners 35-0. Joe Brunkhorst scored four touchdowns while Bobby Hilliard and David Darrin also contributed to the point total. Long punt returns came from Ken Lightbody and Carlos Lopez to add to the Baron attack.

Bonita's homecoming game was everything the Barons hoped for as they defeated Montgomery 27-12. Bonita's defense and Reid Sholl's 184 yards passing were the keys in this Baron victory.

The next week, the Barons faced undefeated Hilltop with determination but fell victim to the Lancers despite touchdowns by Bobby Hilliard and Duane Ferguson. The bright spot of this game was that Bonita scored more points against Hilltop than anyone else in the Metro League.

The final game was at Chula Vista and the Barons gave a fine performance in a 30-7 rout of the Spartans. Reid Sholl led in passing with 114 yards and rushing with 83 yards while Mark Green had four receptions for 52 yards. David Darrin kicked one field goal and Scott Parham went 48 yards for the final touchdown of the season.

Overall, the Barons had an excellent season and displayed much spirit and enthusiasm. Their hard work in pre-season workouts as well as persistence throughout the season contributed to a winning season for the Baron team.

Girls' Volleyball Sets Up Winning Season

Filled with skill and determination, the Girls' Varsity Volleyball Team strove for excellence in the '79 season. Following closely behind Coronado, the girls definitely had a record to be proud of. Two star players this year were seniors, Sharon Gallant and Theresa Gonzales. The skill displayed by these girls and the coaching done by Ms. Jan Kimball, were invaluable assets to the team's success.

Girls' Tennis Smashes Opponents

Under the guidance of Mrs. Elaine Watt, the Girls' Tennis Team once again had a strong season. The Baron team took third in Metro while facing defeat at the hands of Coronado and suffering disappointing losses to Hilltop.

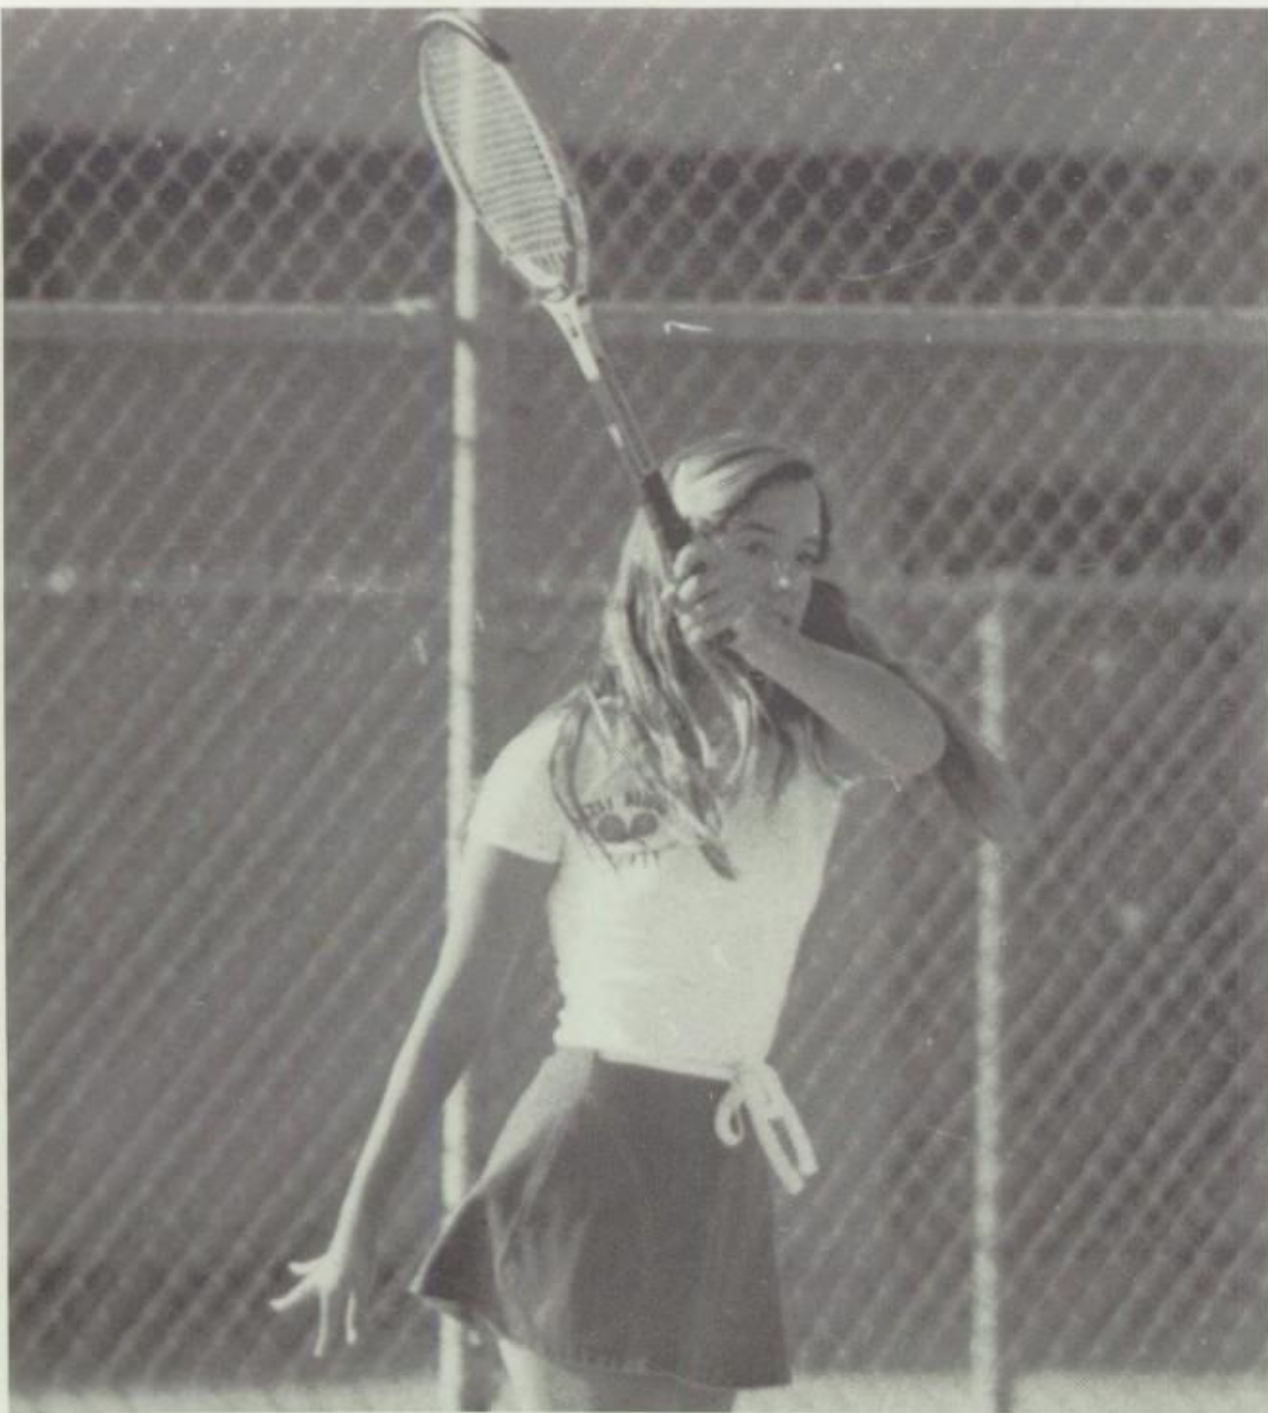

Led by captain Pam Mason, the Barons displayed pride and talent throughout the season as they placed five girls in individual CIF competition for the first time. These girls were Pam Mason, Karen Mason, Colleen Fitzgerald, Anna Sanchez, and Debbie Wilson. The Barons also qualified for team CIF but fell victim to Grossmont in a close match.

The Baron team showed promise for next year, as two-thirds of the players were sophomores and juniors who hope to build on this year's success.

Determination, Persistence Obvious—Water Polo Takes Fourth In Metro

The Baron Water Polo Team started the season without a coach and only four returning seniors but managed to splash their way to a fourth-place finish in the Metro League. With long, hard workouts, the Barons were determined to play their best but lost some close games to Chula Vista and Sweetwater. Highlights during the season were provided by high-scorers Scott Hahn and Rob Dowell as well as Mike Meglen, David Rains, and goalie Lou Castro who led the team to a winning season.

Hoopsters Slam— Dunk Opponents

Clockwise from upper far right: Varsity Basketball
 Freeman, Mark Ruffell, Dante DaRodda, Reid Sholl, Bobby Hillard, Larry Irwin, Mike Bier, Rick Reyes, Brian Kink, Erik Helgeson, Robert Scott, and Manager Brian Russo, Erik Helgeson leaps for the ball.
 Mike Bier throws in two points. Erik Helgeson puts up the ball. Jim Conroy takes a shot. Mike Bier wins the jump ball.

The 1979 Baron Basketball Team underwent a tremendous change as the hoopsters, in the eyes of Coach John Grande, "improved immensely." The five man fast break game proved successful as it overcame the defenses of Marian, Castle Park, Southwest, Coronado, Mar Vista, Montgomery, and Chula Vista. The Barons' excellent defense also held off these opponents as well as kept the scores respectable against Sweetwater and Hilltop.

The five Baron starters—Jim Conroy, Reid Sholl, Jon Freeman, Mike Bier, and Bobby Hilliard—provided a thrilling beginning in most of the games. As balanced scoring among the five players took away the "hero of the game," each of the players became a hero in his own right making lay-ups, free throws, and jump shots that contributed to a winning season. Aggressive rebounding, too, added to this team's success. (con't.)

Clockwise from far upper left: Mark Ruffell passes the ball. Bobby Hilliard puts up two points. Jim Conroy takes a free throw. Reid Sholl shows his form. Jon Freeman shoots over an opponent.

The "Guerilla Force" consisted of five second string exellers—Rick Reyes, Mark Ruffell, Dante DaRodda, Larry Irwin, and Robert Scott. These guys provided a superior replacement set for the starting five whenever the game became "interesting." Named "Guerilla Force" for their formidable handling of the other teams, these hoopsters proved as big "heroes" as the starting five.

As the season concluded, Coach Grande offered only accolades when describing his 1979-1980 Baron Basketball Team. Hoping for as much success during the Summer League and '80-'81 season, Coach Grande looked to the next year with the proud knowledge that next year's squad could be even better.

Vying with Hilltop, Chula Vista, and Coronado for the Metro Championship, the Girls' Basketball Team looked forward to a season of tough competition. The Baron starters—center Kim Albee, Connie Krogh, Jill Johnson, Pat Connors, and Susan Miner—combined their skills with a bench that had much depth and consistency to form a power-packed team. Always aiming for victory, the Baron cagers concentrated on rebounding and defense in addition to abundant scoring in an effort to perform to the utmost in every respect. For girls' basketball, 1980 was another season of which to be proud.

Dedication Takes Cross Country to CIF

Although not coming out on top of Metro, BV's Cross Country athletes were described by Coach Merlin Holmes as competing "very well for a young team." The Baron harriers accumulated a fine record and placed some runners in top finalist positions in C.I.F. competition. Chris Eckert led the team with seven first-place finishes and was closely followed by All-Metro John Fischer while Pat O'Rourke, Dale Edwards, Diony San Pedro, Fred Eitzen, and Mark Backes rounded out the varsity team.

The JV team also performed very well, taking third place in Metro. The team was led by Poten San Pedro, Eric Wood, Joe DeSouza, Jim White, and Glenn Cornelius.

Soccer Team Shows Consistent Improvement

With the outstanding play of sweeper Steve Brisbois, goalie Chip McCallum, and co-captains Ben Bean and Bruce Russell, the Baron soccer team showed much improvement. A superb defense and a strong forward line were the elements of a team that has hopefully started a winning tradition in Baron soccer.

Wrestlers Grab For Victory

In addition to an abundance of talent, the Baron Wrestling Team displayed a winning attitude and fantastic determination. Bill Umansky, R.K. Hiatt, Steve Isaacson, and Don Naillon formed the nucleus of the dedicated team. Their rough work-outs and conditioning paid dividends as the Barons produced a winning season.

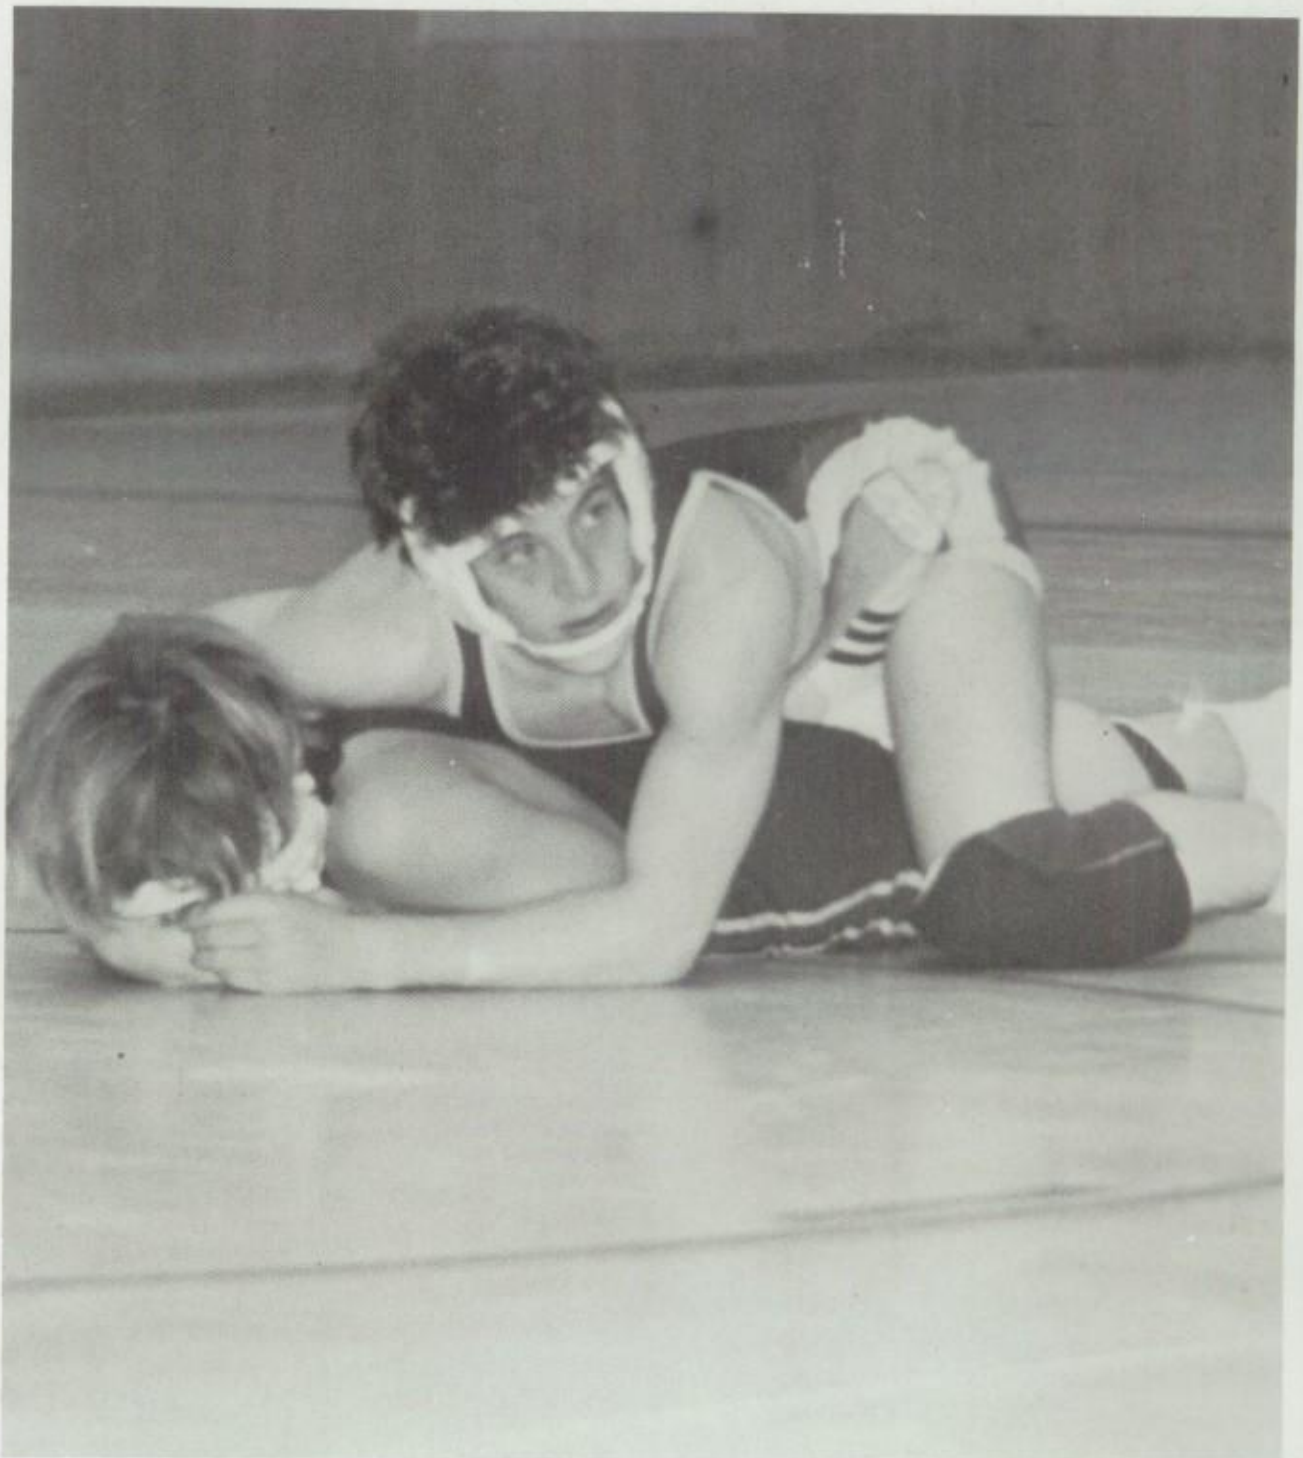

The J.V. wrestlers were also very successful and had an excellent record.

METRO CHAMPS

Never before in the history of Baron tennis has a more talented group of players ever been gathered together as the 1980 team. Under the direction of Coach Bill Foley, the Boys' Tennis Team had unbelievable depth and strength—two attributes that would hopefully take them to the Metro Championship and CIF finals. This year's top players included Sophomore Alberto Ramos, last year's MVP Bill Ellis, Nelson Baines, Eric Sorenson, and Brad Woodall—all of whom displayed incredible ability and skill. These players combined with the doubles teams to produce a year of victory for Baron tennis.

Coached by Ms. Jan Kimball, the Varsity Softball Team came back strong this year because of the loss of only two senior players. New players who moved up from J.V. were Mary Tingzon, Allison Gibson, and Judy Palmejar. With junior pitcher Sandy Miramontes (All-CIF and All-Metro last year) back on the mound, the team executed skill and experience. Battling for the top with the Hilltop Lancers and the Chula Vista Spartans, the Barons once again showed their superiority on the field.

The 1980 Baseball Team started the preseason victory bandwagon with a win over Mount Miguel. Leading the offense were Stuart Wright and Mike DeLucia who crashed homers over the Matadors' fence. Strong defense was contributed by Romy Cucjen and Rick Johnson who held the Mount Miguel team to a minimal amount of runs.

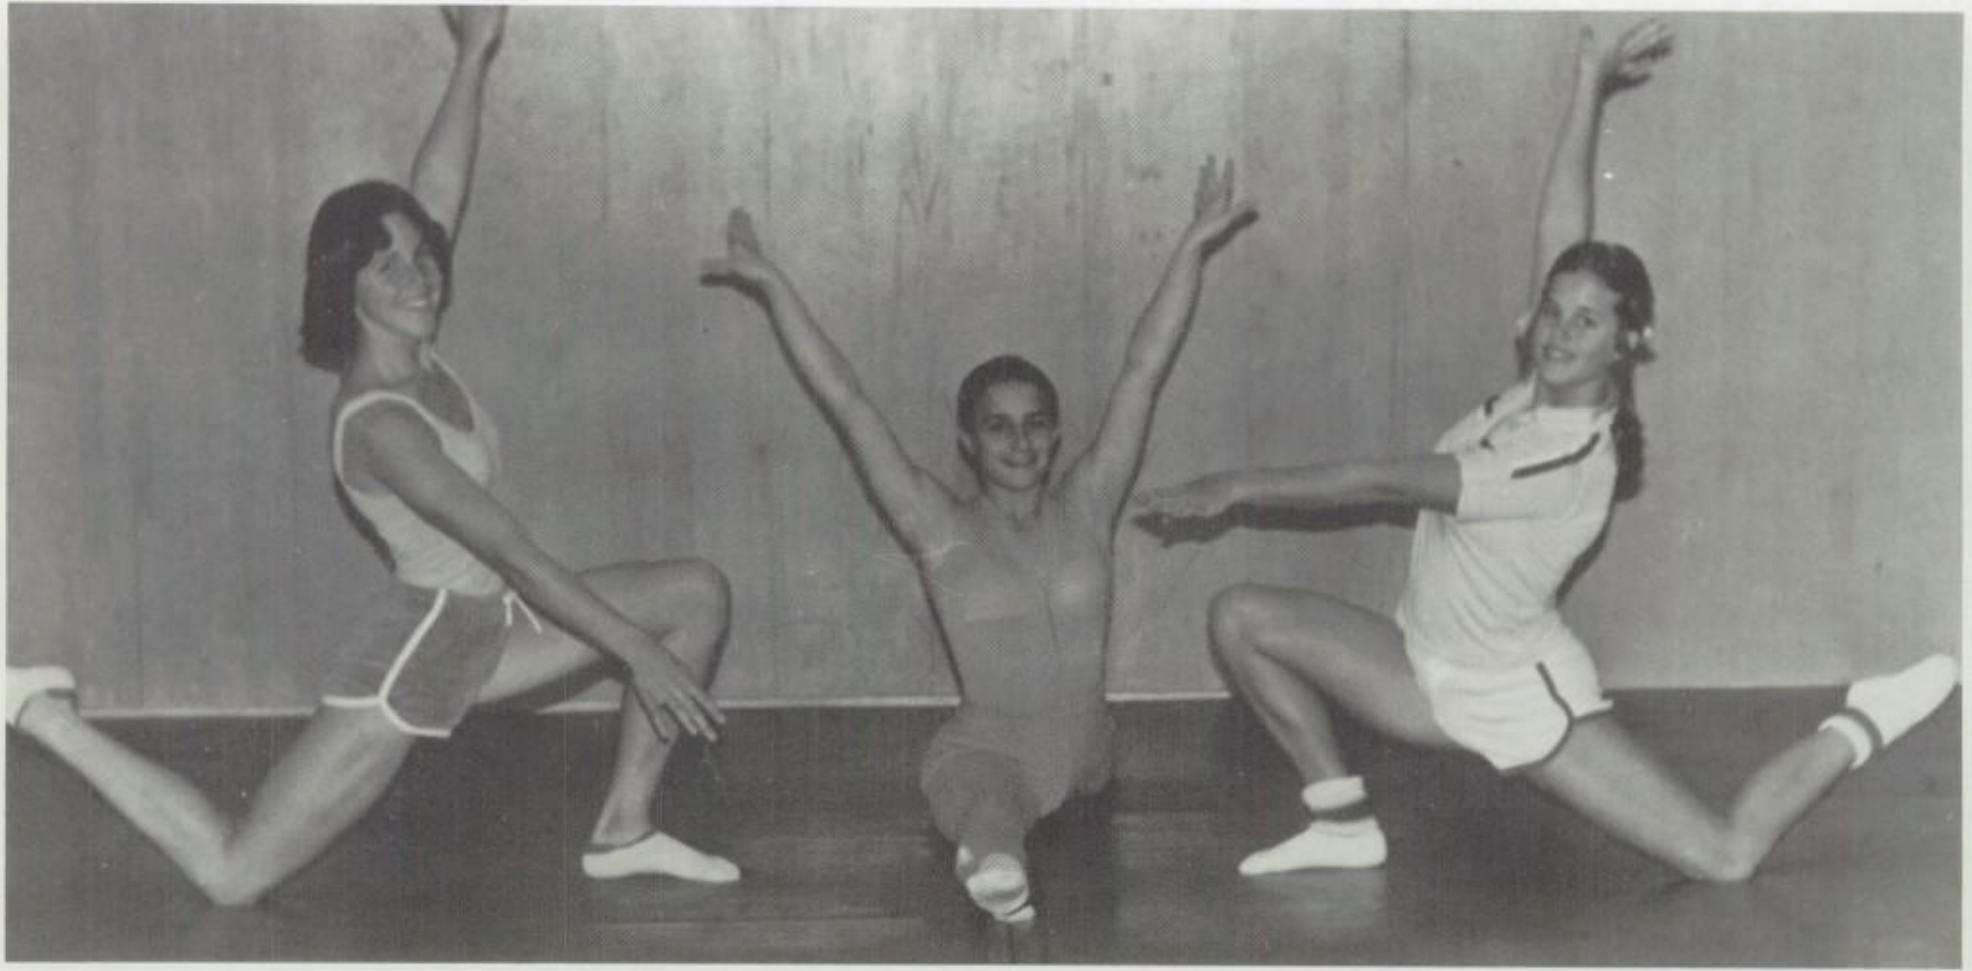

Throughout the season, Coach Larry Roberts' team showed a tremendous amount of ability and sportsmanship. Marty Taylor led the rather inexperienced pitching staff. At least half the baseball team consisted of Juniors and these athletes proved just as competitive as the veteran Seniors.

Not satisfied with one Metro Championship, the Baron gymnasts wanted to add another banner to their collection in 1980. Deanna Johnson, all-around CIF Champion last year, led the Barons as team captain and performed in the optional category. Other members of the team in the optionals were Carolyn Demming, Jacalyne Werner, and Merilee Munger. Also adding points to the total were the gymnasts in the varsity compulsory category. Because the girls on the team had CIF experience or had competed before, Coach Sandy Grandison felt their CIF ranking would be very high. Success and spirit were obvious characteristics of this year's gymnasts.

Cheerleaders Ignite Wildfire At Bonita

The 1979-1980 Varsity Cheerleaders were a unique group of young ladies. Attired in gold uniforms, they helped to symbolize and reverberate "Baron Pride" throughout the student body. Dedication and creativity were needed during long hours of summer practice. In June, along with Cheerleader Advisor Michele Rountree and the JV Squad, they headed to Santa Barbara for the United Spirit Association Cheerleading Camp.

Cheerleading Camp proved one of the most memorable experiences for these cheerleaders. Three hundred "crazy and radical" girls cheered their hearts out for four days, learning new skills and routines. Helping each other was not the only purpose of this assemblage—a competition, in which the BV Cheerleaders earned a Superior rating and trophy, was the highlight of the stay.

At the start of the school year the Varsity Cheerleaders began their long stint of leadership and crowd support during the exciting football season. These girls' bountiful pep was carried into the basketball season where they led the crowd in yells and chants.

Overall, the word "Baron" on these cheerleaders' uniforms only served to graphically depict what these girls exuded—pride, determination, and limitless zeal.

JV Flare Sparks Underclass Spirit

The 1979-1980 Junior Varsity Cheerleaders had an impressive year as an excellent rating at Cheerleading Camp started things off right. The J.V. Football Team, enjoying a nearly undefeated season, was greatly helped by the tremendous support these cheerleaders drummed up from the stands. Stunts, dances, and sing-song chants were the prominent J.V. Cheerleader routines as these girls, under the direction of Michele Rountree, proceeded to borrow technique from those excellent examples, the varsity cheerleaders. Lisa Catlin led this group through an enthusiastic and spirited year, the girls certainly acted as fine representatives of our school whenever they J.V. teams went on the road.

During the basketball season, too, the J.V. Cheerleaders backed their J.V. Basketball Team which proved worthy of this support. Here again, carefully executed stunts and routines provided grand entertainment to the spectators and allowed everyone to get involved.

All in all the J.V. Cheerleaders proved themselves a marvelous set of girls who surely will add to next year's varsity squad. The bright spirit of these girls was felt by all and appreciated even more.

times and i wouldn't forget any of them. You're a great supplier and we couldn't live without you. I wish you the best of luck with charlie cuz I know you two will end up as one. I really think you're a strong person because what you're doing waiting for charlie is great. I would never be able to do it. But you got us gal and if you ever fell down about charlie you have many who care about you and who you can talk to. We'll take care of yourself the best of luck. Love & friend Marty, P.S. We'll have to do things this summer for sure

Bonita Vista's Girls' Track Team has never lost a meet and, in 1980 (Coach Pat Judd's last year), they looked forward to another Metro Championship. Team leaders included sprinter Ceci Martinez, Marianne Smith, and Jenni Serna. Veronica James was an exceptional performer in the mile and two-mile races while Barbara Cort was consistent in the discus. Stacey Proctor's accomplishments in the long jump were exciting and admirable. The runners and hurdlers combined with the girls in the field events to produce another successful season for the Barons.

Janet Coates speeds to a win. Julie Rathbun clears the bar. Barbara Cort whips the discus.

Track Continues Undefeated Record

With eight consecutive Metro championships, Baron tracksters have become a traditional highlight of BV sports. In 1980, the story was no different as Coach Chip Holmes' athletes produced a fantastic record.

Spots in the distance events were filled by stand-out Andy Morabe and the talents of Dale Edwards and Chris Eckert while such sprinters as Steve Cooper and Robert Scott added many points for Baron victories. Rounding out the Baron track team's performance were the participants in the field events. CIF finalist Mark McKinney was extremely successful in the long jump as were polevaulter Chris Wetzel and discus thrower Albert Zamora.

Rough competition and a continuous win streak of 71 meets put much pressure on the Barons, but 1980 proved another year of victory.

Varsity Swimmers Leave Opposition Behind

Early in the season, second-year coach Rexanne Ring and the Baron swimmers set their goals and planned on accumulating an excellent record in Metro League competition. Their hopes were realized as breaststroke-specialist Rob Unger, butter-flyer Scott Hahn, and free-styler David Rains performed admirably. Much support was also provided by Ed James, Phil Young, Doreen Bellucci, Mike Meglen, and the BV divers resulting in a dedicated and victorious team effort.

JV Swimmers Splash To Success

The JV swimmers endured tough work-outs and stiff competition to produce a fine record. Julie Steel and Gerry Dart were consistent with their strong swimming while Janet Steel dove with skill. Spirit and pride could be easily seen in the performances of these athletes.

METRO CHAMPS

Despite the rains that washed out Chula Vista Municipal Golf Course, the Baron golf team came away with many victories in 1980. The golfers fought with tough teams from Coronado, Hilltop, and Chula Vista in trying to add to the three consecutive Metro titles they had already won.

Returning Seniors included Mark Mendez, Justin Grodzicki, Pat Norris, Richard Dizon, and Bob Murray, while Junior George VanValkenburg also contributed to the strong efforts of the team. For the first time in five years, girls were also a force for the Baron golf team as Tammy Waid and Leanne Fare were important factors in the Barons' success. These golfers were certainly dedicated and skillful in their quest for victory in 1980.

The 1979-80 J.V. Basketball Team, under the leadership of Coach Ybarra, obtained a very high ranking in the Metro League. Despite the loss of Brad Wilson early in the season, the starting line-up of Rick Cucjen, Jeff Kohls, Tim Burns, Rob Macaulay, and David Campagna won the Barons many victories.

JV Takes Metro Crown

The J.V. Football Team had a phenomenal year, compiling its best record ever and winning the Metro Crown. The Barons were an exciting and talented team and suffered only one loss during the season. They were led by captain Richard Aguilar and the fine play of Chester Umanging. The outstanding abilities of this year's team should form the basis of a formidable varsity team in the future.

Organizations

Organizations on campus this year played a key role in the activities and spirit at BVH. A variety of clubs provided numerous opportunities for any student interested in competition; service, or just plain fun.

For the intellectuals there were the Speech Club, CSF, and Knowledge Bowl. For those interested in different cultures, AFS, French and Spanish Clubs, and Dynasty were available. The latter helped heighten cultural awareness on campus with a successful "Multi-cultural Week."

Those who were interested in school and community service belonged to the new Octagon Club, Interact Club, or School Service Club. Interact sponsored a dance featuring "Lightening" late in the fall, while the School Service Club provided student help at ticket and concession sales all year long.

The Ski Club satisfied the sports enthusiast; Dance Co. was another physically stimulating club.

Overall, the organizations on campus only reiterated the diversity that a San Diegan school such as Bonita Vista can provide.

Baron Band Works

The 1979-1980 Baron Drill Team and Letters, worked as a skillful unit demonstrating talent and precision at many events. Along with football half-times and the annual Band Pageant, they participated in the Chino Parade, the Hawthorne Parade, the Chula Vista Band Review, the Christmas Parade, and the Long Beach parade. Esley Ottisen also kept a minimum score of 90 in four Drum Major Competitions.

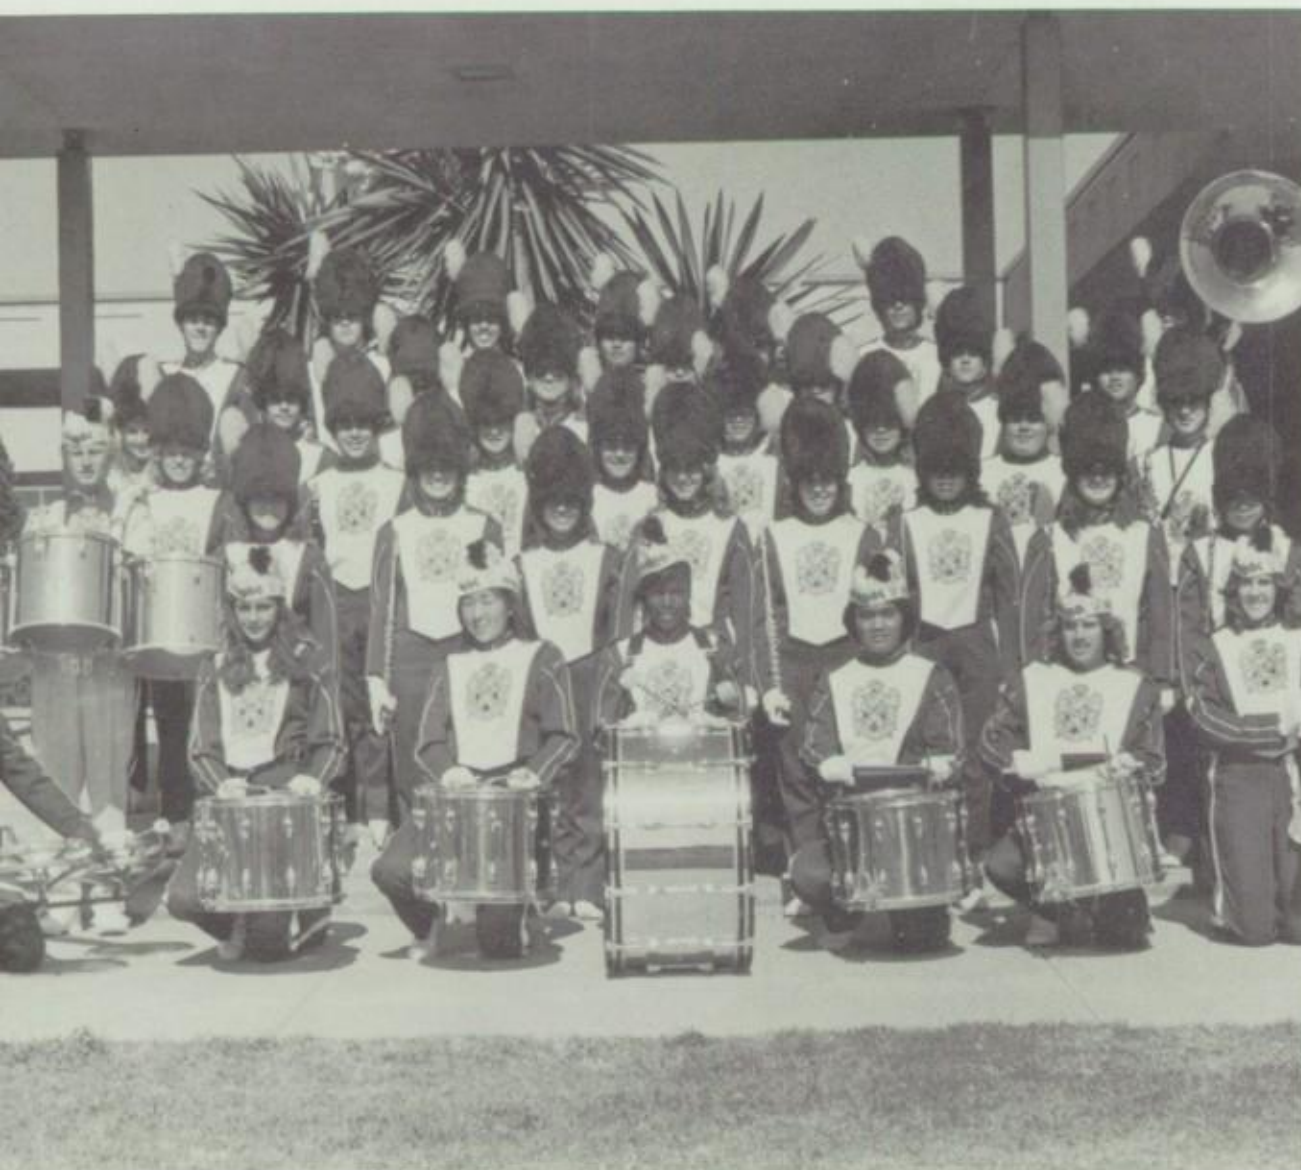

However, being in one of these specialty corps was not only precision and hard work, but a time of learning, crying and satisfaction. Trophies were not the only awards given to them; memories and friendships were also added to their lives.

Drill Team, Letterettes, Earn High Marks

Directed by advisor Ms. Sandra Grindle and lead by Captain Barbie McDaniel, the Baronette Drill Team added new honors to their list. Having the biggest unit this year, nearly 100 girls, they traveled many places to compete and received two trophies. A fourth place from the Hawthorne parade and a third place from the Chula Vista review were awarded to the Baronettes. Along with marching, the girls also performed a hat and cane act at a basketball half-time. The Baronettes drew money in by selling Band Pageant tickets, See's suckers and car wash tickets.

Excalibur Staff Explores New Directions At Bonita Vista

Editor Desiree Ang and Advisor Mrs. Cheryl Selles had their hands pleasantly full with a very talented Annual Staff. Copy Editors Lauri Croce and Shari Myers composed the book's literature as section editors coordinated layouts and pictures. The Staff worked together as a team—the final product was a huge reward for such a fine effort.

New Advisor Changes Crusader's Image

The 1979-1980 Crusader staff produced an informative newspaper, adding many more editorials and special news features. Under the direction of Mr. Mike Morykwas, John Geis, editor, and the rest of the Crusader Staff, it reported on many of the goings on around Bonita and attempted to tackle a few State and National issues in an effort to bring more news to the Bonita student.

Music Groups Entertain Community

The music department had a successful year in 1979 and 1980 as three groups—the Concert/Choir, Sound Company Unlimited, and Music Machine—contributed outstanding and talented performers. A concert at the Chula Vista Shopping Center, caroling at a San Diego Bullocks, and a show at the Westgate Plaza are just three of the many performances these groups executed. Practice was long and hard, but the rewards for every student involved were well worth it.

Cultural Clubs Open New Vistas At Bonita

DYNASTY (A Family of Leaders), a multicultural club, is an organization whose main purpose is to educate and bring about an awareness and understanding of the Asian Culture among students, faculty and the community through food sales, social activities, projects with other organizations and various cultural performances.

THE AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE INTERNATIONAL CLUB works as a service to the school by promoting the work of the Americal Field Service and gives support, help and friendship to all foreign exchange students at Bonita Vista High School. Foreign exchange students are honorary members.

Lori (big mouth) so I'm still going to keep a grudge for you not attending my birthday party, but I'll forgive you as the years pass by... Hope your lover Charles gets back soon so you'll be happier & everything & I'll see you in the summer for sure, I'll see you at the swap

Scholarly Pursuits Engage Many

THE PEP CLUB was a diligent but unrecognized club on campus. Every Thursday afternoon dedicated "Secret Pals", "Rowdy Rooters" and cheerleaders rolled up their sleeves and set to work, painting posters. Led by Mr. Baron himself, Charles Schanke, and Commissioner of Pep, Janelle Henry, the club provided the gym and football stadium with posters that exemplified "Baron Pride" while Secret Pals hung posters to boost the confidence and morale of individual players. In all, the Pep Club was an essential part in the development of school spirit at Bonita Vista.

Look - the girls are going to go to the beach - We'll touch over the summer + go to the beach - We'll have to do something that we'll never forget - maybe hang moons
 at the top of the pier (only kidding) Oh shit the bells rang, I'll continue later,

Baron Pride Comes Alive

Marketed in Marceline, Missouri the annual's cost reached $18,000. It was produced by Herff-Jones Yearbooks and with help from our representative Bruce Smith, we were supplied with layouts, copy sheets and other needs.

However because of the high cost of our annual, the amount made by the sale of annuals did not meet this sum. Consequently, the staff turned to the business people in Bonita. Thanks to the generosity of shop owners your annual contains colored pictures and other special effects. So please show a bit of gratitude and give these warm friendly people your business.

With the arrival of the 1979-80 year, came the growth of new commercialized complexes to serve the community. Commencing with the completion of the Bonita Shopping Center last year, the new Telegraph Canyon Shopping Center and the Bank of America Business Complex added a new face to the local scenario. Both edifices provide citizens in the surrounding area with services and products ranging from getting a hair cut to buying a "Ziggy" postcard.

Not only do the businessmen of the community ensure the availability of services and products, they help promote the community on the whole. Supporting community organized sports such as baseball teams and girls' softball teams is an example of the encouraging aid given by the loyal community patrons. In addition, the enthusiasm and willingness displayed by the businesses of the community to promote the development of community togetherness is further exemplified by the donation of time and effort to the organization of the annual Bonitafest.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It is with sincere thanks and appreciation that the 1980 Excalibur Staff would like to specially recognize the following people, whose dedication and contributions made this annual possible.

—To Mrs. Cheryl Selles, our advisor, whose patience and desire to make the most of this annual encouraged us to do our best to make this Excalibur follow in the award-winning tradition of previous years.

—To Mr. Bruce Smith, our Herff-Jones representative, who made sure we had the materials to create with, layouts, typesheets, envelopes, etc., etc. . . .

—To Desiree Ang and Kathie Ruff, who through their desire to be the best, but to be on time, instilled in us the importance of making those deadlines; who through editing, re-writing and editing again, helped to create this Excalibur 1980, the best ever.

—To Jack Bowermaster, his photographers, Jon, Richard, Keith, and all the rest at Bowermaster, thanks for the memories captured, without which our book would have meant nothing.

—To Don Naillon, Alicia Brown, Andy Vold, Marisa Gonzales, and Greg Marquez, our own Excalibur photographers, who worked madly to capture and print-up many of the pictures within the pages of this book, and whose hard work inspired us all. Also to Miss Laura Dowd, an important contributing photographer who also devoted many hours to our cause.

—To Shari Myers and Lauri Croce who entertained us with hours of copy-creation in an attempt to "tell it like it is", honestly, yet tactfully . . . Whose brainstormed head many a page . . . and in whose words are chronicled life at Bonita . . .

We hope that this Excalibur will reflect some of the moments and memories you have valued most at Bonita, and that the pride and tradition of this great school will inspire you in the years to come.

oni, The loudest of all gets! Well what a year! Where a Parade game and the party was the greatest. I love having Throwing! I still have to get you back for dumping that

The 1979-80 school year saw the end of a decade. A collection of distinctions arising from the seventies opened the way for new and exciting eighties. At B.V.H., the glamour of Homecoming and competition of academics lead the students toward the frivolous B.M.O.C. celebration and the romantic prom. Meanwhile, throughout the nation, disco beats and rock and roll made way for a music revolution. Richard Gere and Bo Derek spawned a movement toward impeccable beauty and taste, and rising awareness of athletics and health excited interest in the 1980 Winter Olympics held in Lake Placid, New York. Internationally, the Ayatollah Khomeini, a unifying leader, and the Soviets' threat to world peace, sparked concern in many minds as to the political role the U.S. would play in 1980.

When militant Iranian students sieged the U.S. Embassy in Tehran, all eyes were fixed on the revolutionary government leader Ayatollah Khomeini. At this point Ayatollah showed his strength, defying all international laws and advocating the students take the fifty American hostages. Khomeini finally agreed to allow U.N. negotiators to bargain for the hostages release, but this did not undermine the power he had obtained, even after a new Iranian President had been elected.

Just across the border, Russian troops invaded Afghanistan. Calling for an immediate withdrawal of the Soviets, President Carter simultaneously called on the American athletes and public to boycott the summer olympics to be held in Moscow in order to try to deter further Soviet military aggression. This with the Iranian situation created concern among the American citizens, who, although under stress and anxiety, united and stood behind the U.S. Government. In addition Carter called for Americans to stand unified and strong behind their country; he called for draft registration. Immediately, opposition sprang from college campuses and other young-adult oriented gathering places. Though Carter's suggestion only required that nineteen and twenty year olds register for a draft, the mere mention of this type of selective service sent many Americans into panic!

Panic also set in San Diego County, however, as torrents of rain pounded the lakes and rivers. Consequently, Southern California was declared a natural disaster area by the president. Evacuation centers were set up all over the community. In Bonita, the Sweetwater Dam was forced to open overflow gates.

Soon after, the golf course became "Bonita River" and horses at Bradley Stables were lifted by helicopters. County wide people were cut off from the rest of the community by washed out roads. Although disaster struck, the citizens always showed up in stories of "people helping people" ple." However San Diego soon returned to the bright bustling town that it is known for.

The academic area, saw new classes and new teachers. However, some students were still challenged by college preparatory classes and Advanced Placement classes.

Others spent their time bettering their artistic, dramatic, or musical ability. Seniors this year worked hard striving for that gold robe.

Overall, it was a traditional highly academic year at B.V.H.

But with traditions came fads, brought on by new music crazes, new movies, or just new fashions. Probably the craziest dress was Punk Rock.

Students clad in all black, straight legged jeans, thin ties and black glasses turned out for the Valentine's Dance as they punked out to the new wave sounds of the T-Birds. Bo Derek in the movie "10", brought the "10" hair style in fashion. Moreover, spring brought bright florescent colors like purples, pinks, greens, reds, and yellows mixed and matched in dresses, blouses and pants; these colors reiterate the unique ways an individual can express himself in San Diego.

However, San Diego was not the only place things were happening. In the East, Eric Hieden, Charles Tickner and the hockey team as well as every member of the U.S. Olympic team made outstanding bids for those treasured Olympic medals. Capturing all five Golds in the men's speed skating events, 21-year old Eric Hieden broke that record, as well as many of the speed records. Eric and his sister Beth both served as outstanding contributors to the team. Charles Fickner, men's figure skater, earned a bronze as the United States took third, fourth, and fifth in the men's figure skating. Linda Fratiane also strove for medals in the women's figure skating tournament. The young hockey team went farther than anyone had ever expected, entering the medal round after the preliminary tournament. skiers, skaters and bob sledders provided thrills as the world came to America for the 1980 Olympics; thus, marking the hopes and aspirations for a decade to come and representing the diligence, happiness, and tears of a decade past, not only for the world abroad, but for those living in HOMEGROWN San Diego.

The three years have gone by so very fast, and to those who happened to have amnesia when deadlines were assigned, misplaced trivial things (like photos. . .) walked into rooms unannounced, (especially "dark rooms" . . .), expected copy and pages to come from thin air for the deadline, forgot where room 404 happened to be, (or claimed that it walked away . . .), forgot to submit their applications to the "Procrastinators Club" on time, loved to eat at fast food places, buy last minute gifts, and pretended to be deaf when instructions were given, I would like to say thank you, for understanding and enduring the time spent putting this book together. Looks Good!

SPECIAL THANKS TO ALL, especially my parents, and Mrs. Selles. Remember me, Your Editor, Desiree Ang.

P.S. I'll miss all of you, even Don, and especially Doreen.

CHIU!

Lori,

Good times, bad times, we've seen em
all. Keep buddies forever, through boyfriends and being single women, we have succeeded. It's been dan fun, what can I say. Gzls rule -

Mrs. Favela lives on. There are so many things we have done to remember. Padre - slumber parties!

microwave parties. Lori, you are a true gal. Gzls keep me going,
I tell you! I hope you and Charlie do eternally good. You better invite me to the wedding. Love him, above all trust him. Lori, through all your problems, even if I am busy, yank me away and I will listen. We've been buds for a good, long time.

Lori, slow down in that pretty white celica. Bite-off-chick!!
Mexican at G.B!!!! Like watch same time Next Year 10 times, it's okay. Lori, let's just laugh and grow fat together okay?

Remember the abduction of Sue Colenzu. Oh my god, so many memories. We will have to have a hot senior year, take care of folks.

Yourself & I love ya! Max

funnest time in my life - skiiing
XOXO
